ITALY TELLS U. S. COAST WATERS ARE MINED; GAYDA THREATENS AMERICAN REPRISALS

Will Guide Liner Past Mine Zone

Mining of Coast Line Is New Development in Duce's Broadening Program

Calls It Rash

Gayda Says American Intervention Not Wise in Europe

Rome, June 6 (AP)—Italian authorities are notifying the United States government that a 12-mile strip around the coast of Italy is being mined, an authoritative source reported today.

The informant said that the United States liner Washington would be safely conducted through the 12-mile danger belt into Naples where it is scheduled to dock June 10.

The bounding of the Italian coast and the coastline of parts of the empire with the danger zone was the newest major development in Italy's broadening preparations for entry into the European war.

Whether the empire coastline as well as mined was not made known. Nor was it known whether the mining of Italian waters had been disclosed to the British and French governments, Italy's prospective enemies.

Notification to countries with shipping in the Mediterranean, however, was regarded by "naval circles as fulfilling Italy's obligation under international regulations to publish the limits of any minefields.

Threatens Reprisals

Meanwhile, from Virginia Gayda, editor of Il Giornale d'Italia, came a threat of eventual European intervention in American affairs if the United States went to the aid of beleaguered Britain and France.

The Gayda editorial was understood to reflect the view of the Italian government.

Italy is paying close attention to the trend of American opinion on the European conflict.

American intervention, Gayda wrote, would be an "ostentatious, rash taking of sides in favor of a small part against a greater part of Europe."

Regular steamship service between Malta, British Mediterranean base, and certain parts of the Italian island of Sicily was suspended today as Italy widened preparations pointing to her entry into the war.

She already had bounded her coastline and that of her empire with 12-mile danger zones for foreign shipping.

It was disclosed today that service between Malta and Syracuse, on the east coast of Sicily, as well

It Takes Brains

If You've Got Hay Fever Mathematics Say You've Got Smart Brain Cells

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 6 (AP)—Between sneezes this summer, the hay fever sufferer may find consolation in the thought that perhaps he is smarter than the next man.

From data compiled over a nine-year period, in which records of his allergy department were compared with the results of student entrance examinations, Dr. Cosmevario Jimenez of the University of Michigan has developed the theory that there is a definite relationship between a higher degree of intelligence and an allergic condition.

He has noted that students suffering from hay fever, asthma and eczema are generally rated from five to 10 per cent higher than non-allergic students in the mental achievement tests.

New York to Move Roosevelt's Name For Title to 24 Properties for Dam

City Must Secure Order From Court Authorizing Deposits; Will Come Before Commission

Friday at special term of supreme court the city of New York will move for possession of 24 additional parcels of land in the city taking area for the new water project when Henry R. Bright and Vincent G. Connolly for the city will move for acquisition of parcels which will come up before section 20 and 11 commissioners for appraisal. The city of New York will move for possession of 18 properties in the section 10 area and six in the section 11 area.

In order to gain possession of the property to be used for water works purposes the city must secure an order from the court authorizing the depositing of one-half of the equalized assessed valuation of lands to be taken as assessed in the year prior to the condemnation proceeding.

Parcels included in the section 10 area title were acquired on April 17, 1940, when the commissioners of appraisal filed their oath and title to the section 11 parcels was acquired on April 18, 1940, when that commission took its oath of office. The commissioners once having been sworn in the city then may proceed with the gaining of possession by making the deposit as directed by a court.

The parcels which will be included in the possession application Friday and which lie in the Delaware section 10 area are: Parcel 1478, Henry Waddell; Parcel 1479, Delvin H. and Mary D. Lawrence; Parcel 1480, John W. Schomaker; Parcel 1481, Samuel L. R. and Lena Hook; Parcel 1482, Frank D. Vanderlyn; Parcel 1483, Daniel Schomaker; Parcel 1484, Iona Edwards; Parcel 1485, Charles and Rosa Sutherland; Parcel 1486, Elmer and Essie S. Vanam; Parcel 1487, Ross Tompkins; Parcel 1488, Timothy G. Dowling; Parcel 1489, William V. Denman; Parcel 1490, William V. Denman.

Marshall Favors Army of 400,000; Plan Is Drawn Up

U. S. Chief of Staff Says Standing Army Would Obviate Calling Guard, and General Staff

Washington, June 6 (AP)—A regular army of 400,000 men was recommended today by General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, who proposed that recruiting of 120,000 additional troops be authorized.

A standing army of this size, he said, was the alternative to granting President Roosevelt's request for power to mobilize the National Guard in an emergency during the absence of Congress.

Unless the army is expanded or the mobilization authority is delegated to the President, Marshall said, the general staff would be handicapped in planning quick action in the face of any western hemisphere threat to American security.

"We can expand the army more quickly than we can mobilize the National Guard," he explained. "The main purpose is to avoid the necessity of calling on the Guard."

Plans Are Worked Out

Paper plans for a fighting force of 400,000 were worked out months ago, the chief of staff disclosed. They provide for creation of a second, fully mechanized, heavily-armed division of the type that has been making military history in Europe.

By conventional recruiting methods the 50,000 recruits now contemplated by Congress should be obtained by September, General Marshall said. Should the further expansion to 400,000 be authorized, he expressed belief that by using existing nation-wide machinery designed for wartime selective service, the 120,000 additional volunteers could be signed up in "one or two months."

Use of the selective service organization would require, a presidential order, he said.

Existing laws limit the army's strength to 230,000 men, but an increase to 280,000 already has been approved by the Senate and House.

Detailing the projected organization of a regular army of 400,000, General Marshall said at a press conference yesterday that 335,000 troops would be required for nine "streamlined," partially motorized infantry divisions, two mechanized divisions and one cavalry division. The air corps would get most of the remaining 65,000 men.

There are now in existence five "streamlined" infantry divisions. A sixth is being created, and pending defense estimates provide for equipping two others. The army's single mechanized cavalry brigade is being expanded into a full division, and there is also a cavalry division on duty in Texas.

With 335,000 men, exclusive of the air corps, Marshall said a ninth division would be organized, along with special corps troops, anti-aircraft battalions, anti-tank companies and reconnaissance troops.

Reynaud Assumes Direction of War; Daladier Is Ousted

Premier Takes Important Post as Foreign Minister and Institutes Some Other Changes

Paris, June 6 (AP)—Premier Paul Reynaud became France's one-man director of the war today with lightning changes in his cabinet before dawn of the second day of the "Battle for Paris."

Shortly after midnight, Reynaud announced that he had assumed the important post of foreign minister, in addition to the premiership and war portfolio.

Thus, while German forces pounded against the capital's Somme and Aisne defense lines, the five-foot-five-inch, 62-year-old premier reached a new peak of political strength, little more than two months after he had won a vote of confidence by a bare one-vote majority in the Chamber of Deputies.

Former Premier Edouard Daladier, who had been foreign minister and long had been a figure in previous cabinets, was dropped from the government, together with other holdovers from earlier regimes.

The dramatic and unexpected move, coming at the critical moment of the new German offensive and threatened Italian intervention in the war on Germany's side, was interpreted generally as reinforcing the administration.

Plan to Integrate Federal Relief Outlays, Defense Appear Likely

Washington, June 6 (AP)—A broad plan to integrate federal relief outlays and national defense needs appeared likely today to receive prompt Senate approval.

Senator Adams (D., Colo.), floor manager for the $1,975,584,936 annual relief bill, said the measure contained few controversial provisions.

As approved by the Senate appropriations committee, it authorizes non-combatant military training of 300,000 youths in CCC camps, earmarking $25,000,000 to speed defense projects for the war and navy departments, and slashing relief restrictions which might hamper the preparedness drive.

Along with the bill went testimony of General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, that the 1,500 CCC camps could "prove a valuable asset in case of mobilization."

The general told senators that he and the war department opposed suggestions for training CCC youths with guns for military combat, because this was too difficult a task in the scattered camps.

The non-combatant services are vitally needed, he added. These include cooking, first aid, bridge and road construction, radio, photography, and mechanical work.

The relief bill contains funds for WPA and other federal agencies for the year beginning July 1. At the President's request, the House voted to let all the WPA money be spent in eight months if necessary.

Even World War 'Relics' Requested

Attorney General Jackson Rules Sales Would Not Violate Neutrality Law, but Early Says Final Decision Would Be Up to White House; French May Buy More Planes

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Urgent Allied requests for arms—even leftover weapons of the World War—were considered today by a government intensifying its own national defense efforts.

Shortly before President Roosevelt met with the defense commission he created to expedite armament production, there were these developments: Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said that Ambassadors Joseph P. Kennedy in London and William C. Bullitt in Paris were "telephoning and cabling and are asking that we do everything we can to speed up production of military essentials" for the Allies.

Secretary Morgenthau revealed that the Allies are considering vast new purchases of military aircraft in this country. The Anglo-French purchasing commission has completed its first $1,000,000 plane buying program and has discussed with him the possibility of a new program, he said.

Morgenthau also disclosed that the Allies had asked permission to buy "surplus World War armaments" and he referred the purchasing agents to the War Department.

Attorney General Jackson, it was learned, ruled that the sale of these weapons would not be in violation of the law. Early told reports at his press conference that the final decision on any such transaction would be up to the White House.

All disclosed of the purpose of the day's defense commission meeting was that the session was called to perfect further plans for rearming the nation. Sidney Hillman, the labor and employment member, was unable to attend. He also was prevented by illness from attending last week's organization session.

Lehman Asks Three Anti-Aircraft Units

Albany, N. Y., June 6 (AP)—Governor Lehman today asked the war department for authority to establish three anti-aircraft regiments within New York's National Guard, two of which would protect New York city and one to be located in western New York.

The guard has no such units at the present time.

Pressing the state-preparedness program, the governor announced he had asked authority for conversion of the 107th and 369th infantry, New York city, into anti-aircraft regiments. The 107th would become the 207th coast artillery and the 369th infantry would become the 369th coast artillery.

Lehman said he also has renewed a recent request for organization of an additional anti-aircraft regiment to be located in western New York.

Merchants Plan August Dollar Day

Annual Outing Will Be Held August 15; Two-Way Traffic Favored

Initiation of plans for the August Dollar Day and for the annual Merchant-Employee picnic were among items of important business transacted at the monthly meeting of the Uptown Business Men's Association, held this morning in the Farm Bureau assembly room, in the county building on John street.

The meeting was well attended and harmonious, with a minimum of "off the record" debate and the numerous matters brought up were disposed of like clockwork.

Vice-President James H. Betts presided at the meeting. President Louis Weiner being unable to be present.

The first matter brought before the meeting was a request that the association provide medals for one of the events in the coming Annual Kingston Recreation Track and Field meet, to be held Sunday, July 21, at the Municipal Stadium. On motion it was voted to donate the medals, preferably for winners in the two-mile run.

After brief discussion it was voted to table propositions for donations from the treasury for entertainment of the delegates to the Civil Service Association convention, which is to be held in Kingston June 21, 22 and 23 and to help make good shortage in the treasury of the Apple Blossom Festival committee.

There was unanimous approval of a motion to hold the annual August Dollar Day. President Weiner to name a committee to make arrangements.

Outing, August 15

It also was voted to hold the annual outing for business men and employees. Thursday, August 15 was set as the date for the event. The naming of the committee of arrangements for this popular event was left with the president.

The question of added remuneration for the attendant at the public parking ground on John street was also discussed.

Appeals to Lawyers

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, anticipating that Congress will increase his force from its present 1,000 agents to a record strength of 1,500, appealed to young lawyers.

He said that the federal government was "in a position to pay a high salary to a young lawyer who would be able to handle the cases of the federal government."

Nazi Units Plunge to Their Doom

Infantry Allows Tanks to Sift Through and Then French 75's Do Remainder

Nazis Claim Gains

Germans Thrust Deeply Into Heart of France. Berlin Says

(By The Associated Press)

Fleets of German tanks nosing into France's newly-organized "quicksand" defense system were reported suffering heavy losses on the 200-mile western front today as Nazi plans were reported to call for the capture of Paris within 15 days.

The new French strategy, it was said, permits Nazi "panzer" forces to filter through defense lines—without attempting to throw infantry into the path of the mechanized monsters.

Then, in an engulfing movement, the French lines quickly close behind the tanks to halt the follow-up rush of German infantry, while the tanks are met by point-blank fire from concealed nests of French 75-millimeter field guns.

Paris reported the efficiency of the new defense traps has already been proved.

Grey hordes of Germans attacked violently at dawn on the 200-mile western front, Berlin reported, and "thrust into the heart of France."

Gen. Maxime Weygand's French high command denied any serious break through, admitting only "small tactical advances along lines 'too far out in front.'"

London acknowledged German progress at certain points in the battle of 2,000,000 men along the Aisne-Somme front, and military sources declared:

"The Germans are tapping everywhere to find a soft spot—and when they find it they will try and push through."

It Can't Hold, but—

Authorized German sources said the Weygand line "proved on the very first day it cannot hold out"—but for the moment, at least, there were no reports of smashing Nazi advances of 20 or 30 miles such as characterized the German conquest of Flanders.

In their desperate fight to save the French capital, Weygand's blue-clad Poles were reported holding strongly and French military leaders described the situation as "fairly good."

Heavy German artillery pounded the French lines in the Soissons-Laon sector—base for the shortest direct onslaught toward Paris, about 60 miles distant—and sent over quantities of smoke shells.

British R. A. F. bombers attacked German lines of communications behind the Somme front, the air ministry announced, and destroyed six Nazi planes. The ministry reported direct hits on several oil tanks at German-occupied Ghent in Belgium.

A British radio report said the German air force raised the French city of Rouen, 35 miles inland on the Seine river from Le Havre. The raid caused little damage, the report said, and the Germans lost six planes.

Seven Planes Shot Down

Paris reported seven Nazi planes were shot down over Normandy, with three others believed shot down in central France.

One of the German-claimed "breaks" was along the Ailette river, where the Weygand line is only 65 miles from Paris. Here the French reported heavy German attacks.

Advised to Leave

Italians Are Warned to Get Out of French Area in Africa by Consul

Jibuti, French Somaliland, June 6 (AP)—Italian subjects in Jibuti were advised to leave by their consul today as tension continued between France and Italy.

Jibuti is one of the points named in rising Italian clamor for concessions, territorial and otherwise, which started before the European war broke out.

Jibuti is a port on the Gulf of Aden and the terminus of the French-owned railway into Italian-occupied Ethiopia. The railway is Ethiopia's main outlet and at first Italians called for an increased voice in controlling the line and special port facilities in Jibuti. Later demands were voiced for Jibuti itself.

Salvage Habit Gripping British

Waste Paper, Tin Cans, Rags Are Regarded as Items of Importance.

LONDON.—Ever since the war began the British have been officially urged on the one hand to save every possible farthing and so help public finance; on the other hand to spend to the limit and thus keep the wheels of trade turning.

But now the government—and the minister of supply in particular—is pressing forward a savings campaign. All local authorities are being pressed by the ministry to make war on waste and, specifically, to arrange for the salvaging of almost everything which, having been used for its primary purpose, can be transformed and used again in some form.

Response Takes Time. Local authorities are urged to enter voluntarily into the plan. Response by these authorities so far has been variable. Some have plunged into saving with zeal and have made the most elaborate arrangements for salvaging hitherto unconsidered trifles; others have been inactive.

However, people are now saving waste paper, bones, scrap metal (old sardine tins for example) rags, also potato peelings, outer cabbage leaves and other bits which can be fed to pigs and poultry.

Waste paper is one of the principal items of salvage. This is being done at the rate of some 50,000 tons a year but when the paper saving organization now being set up gets into its full stride the anticipation is that this will be multiplied at least five times.

Scrap Metal Important. Scrap metal also is considered important. The small metal caps used to seal milk bottles are saved and returned to the milkman who usually carries on his rounds a receptacle for them. It is understood that dairies ask for the return of these caps in response to an official suggestion that they should be saved.

Some of the salvage schemes are most detailed and sorting methods are elaborate, particularly as regards waste paper. One of the boroughs makes house-to-house collections of bones to be boiled down for glue. Another has opened a shop where methods of saving of all sorts of things are demonstrated.

Quarter Century Required To Untangle Red Tape

OROVILLE, CALIF.—Bob Strang bought a new hay baler for five cents and still is not happy about it. Strang organized the county's exhibit for the San Francisco exposition of 1915 and when it closed the hay presser was left on his hands, where it has been for the past 25 years.

Recently he petitioned the board of supervisors to take possession of it. They declined and insisted instead that he purchase it for five cents and legalized the transaction by issuing a bill of sale. As the machine only compresses bales 16 by 19 inches, it has no practical value. The purchase, however, will permit Strang to give it away and thus get rid of it.

Cloth Fresco Painting Is Developed by Priest

WEST WARREN, MASS.—The Rev. O. J. Chevrete, pastor of St. Thomas Catholic church, has been granted a patent on a process for "painting fresco on cloth."

Father Chevrete says examples of his method soon will be submitted to art centers for critical appraisal.

He explains that his patent covers the application of pure dyes and water pigments on absorbent cloth with a brush with "exceptional" economy.

The pastor says the process is suitable for use on such pliable textures as stage curtains and permits the saturation of a cloth in such a manner that the resulting product is transparent.

Cold Blood Transfusions Reported From Moscow

MOSCOW.—The discovery that cold as well as warm blood can be used in transfusions was reported recently in a dispatch to the communist newspaper Pravda from Khabarovsk, in far eastern Siberia.

The newspaper pointed out that such a discovery would be especially important in time of war. Injections with warm blood require at least 30 minutes, Pravda said, whereas the new tests show that blood can be injected the moment it is taken from the refrigerator.

Ethiopia's Shark Industry

Italy has found shark fishing a profitable industry and is encouraging it among the Ethiopians. Oil obtained from the shark has been found a satisfactory substitute for cod liver oil; shark meat is a favorite food of the Arabs; a valuable leather is obtained from the skin, and the fins, when dried and properly cured, attract the palate of Chinese gourmets.

Pacific Coast Indians Record Tribal Chants

The songs of the Makah, Clayoquot, and Quileute Indian tribes, whose homes are on the coast of Washington state and Vancouver island, have been recorded on phonograph records by Frances Densmore of the Smithsonian bureau of ethnology in Washington, D. C.

As the three tribes spend most of their time hunting and fishing, their songs are about these everyday pursuits.

For example, they have songs relating to the whale which could not be eaten and another one designed to make wounded whales swim to shore. They also have a "potlatch" song which invites members of the tribes to congregate while a brave gives away his most prized possessions.

Songs of native dances, wars, dreams, for the sick, for little children, and all other forms of social gatherings for special occasions have been preserved.

In singing the songs of social gatherings, a brave starts the song and other tribal members chant the melody without using words. Then a woman pronounces the words and the tribe joins in. Some of the songs are accompanied by drums, rattles, whistles, and the beating of sticks on a plank, while others are unaccompanied.

Principal singer for the bureau's study was a former medicine man.

Nation's Patent System Aids Scientific Progress

When President George Washington signed the first national patent legislation 150 years ago, agriculture was the chief occupation of the United States. So predominant it was in our national life that less than 10 per cent of the population was engaged in any other pursuit.

Under the United States patent system, by which an inventor is guaranteed protection for his brainchild, the U. S. has achieved scientific progress such as has never been seen in any other country and a half since the birth of civilization.

The airplane, an American invention, has traversed the skies of Africa, Asia, South America and the islands of the farthest seas. Missionaries, explorers, traders and the frontiersmen of governments claiming sovereignty over the places and peoples have acquainted aborigines with pictures and print, cameras, firearms, scientific instruments, utensils and many other articles either directly or indirectly of American devising.

The foreigner who mines coal or mans a train or operates a loom or harvests his grain is almost certain to use an American invention. If he types a letter or telephones or telegraphs a message he must thank American genius for the typewriter, the telephone and the telephone.

American contributions to world convenience.

Healing War Wounds

A substance which may enable war wounds to heal more quickly is the subject of experiments being conducted at the Strangeways Research laboratory, Cambridge, England. It is called epitein, and its discoverer, Dr. Albert Fisher, is director of the Carlsberg Biological Institute of Copenhagen. For some years there has been knowledge of a growth promoting substance obtainable from 10-day-old chick embryo. Its instability and the technical difficulties in extracting it have been obstacles to its use in surgery, but it would seem that Dr. Fisher has discovered a means of producing the substance as a clean, stable powder which can be absorbed in kaolin. It is suggested that the use of this has shown cases where wounds have healed in one-third of the usual time. It may to some extent replace skin-grafting.

College Reading Test

A college freshman's acquaintance with literature can be measured accurately in 40 minutes with a standardized test which has been developed at Alabama Polytechnic Institute. Containing 150 items, the test measures the scope of a student's familiarity with world literature from the time of Shakespeare to the 1900s. It was published by the Co-operative Test Service of the American Council on Education and will be used in many colleges and universities. It is titled the "Co-operative Literary Acquaintance Test." Its authors are Dr. Rosa Lee Watson, director of women students at Auburn, and Dr. Edwin E. Cureton, professor of education and widely known authority on tests and measurements.

Fashion and Health

Comfort rather than a fashionable figure is recommended as a guide in wearing apparel for women by Dr. D. H. Deyoe, assistant medical advisor of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. "The women of Queen Elizabeth's time," he said, "were not squeamish; they did not faint at the slightest provocation but from the pressure of their foundation garments on the nerve center, the solar plexus. Nor did they die of broken hearts, but rather from chlorosis, commonly known as green anemia, caused by the impairment of their blood. This was the direct result of pressure on the liver." Dr. Deyoe said he isn't trying to scare the women, but urged them to look behind women's fashions and to consider their effect on health.

Has Seen His Duty

Lima, O. G.—An Indiana couple left their two-year-old daughter in their car while they shopped. The child began throwing soft drink bottles into the street. Petrolman Elgin Ralston induced the little girl to roll down the window of the car and opened the door. He took her in "protective custody," leaving a note for the parents who soon arrived to claim the child.

Knox Calls Neutrality Sham And Asks Help for Allies

Chicago, June 6 (AP).—Col. Frank Knox advocated today that the United States furnish France and Great Britain with everything short of soldiers to help win the war.

"Our neutrality has been a sham," said the publisher of the Chicago Daily News, who was the Republican vice-presidential nominee in 1936. "We have always been for the Allies, and anything we have done or can do to help them will be a direct contribution to American security."

Three weeks ago, with the approval of President Roosevelt and the army's chief of staff, Col. Knox initiated "aviation Plattsburgs," a patriotic civilian movement to train 15,000 pilots in military flying this summer and 30,000 men during the next school year.

In today's interview he dealt with American defense problems in their broadest aspects, solemnly declaring it was "simply impossible to exaggerate the danger facing America if the Allied cause is lost."

Col. Knox recommended that the United States army make its first line fighting planes available to Britain and France while there was still time to use them.

"Five hundred planes would be a godsend to the French right now," he said. "We are not in any immediate danger, and we could quickly replace ships sent to Europe with even more up-to-date models. We might also sell the Allies our over-age destroyers without impairing our naval strength. It would be much better to send them our ships and planes now than our boys later."

Brandow Is Hurt In Morning Crash

James Brandow, an engineer employed at the Forst Packing Company, was injured when his automobile was in a collision with a car driven by Charles Carpino of 14 Crane street at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

Both cars were damaged considerably in the crash which occurred at the intersection of Hone and West Pierpont streets.

Brandow had his injuries treated at the Kingston Hospital.

Carpino was placed under arrest by Brandow who charged him with reckless driving.

Later in police court the hearing was adjourned for two weeks. Attorney Chris J. Flanagan appeared for Carpino.

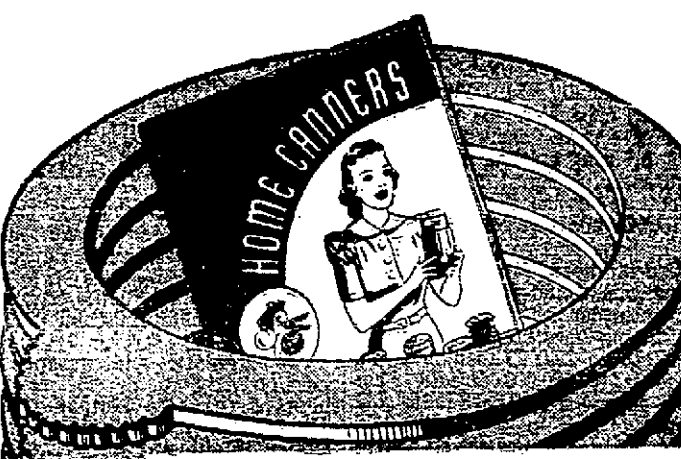

First white man to gaze upon the Grand Canyon was Don Garcia Lopez de Cardenas, a captain in Coronado's expedition, who reached the gorge in 1540. He was unimpressed by what now is regarded as one of the world's greatest scenic spectacles.

Capt. Anderson Pilots Bomber

Capt. Fred L. Anderson, Jr., son of Mrs. Fred L. Anderson of 180 Albany avenue, flew one of the large U. S. Army bombers from Denver to Newburgh on Wednesday and came to Kingston for a short visit with his parents. The landing of the large bomber was made at the Newburgh field, which is used as the landing field in conjunction with the West Point Army post.

Capt. Anderson has been a member of the Air Corps for several years, stationed at various airfields throughout the country. He will remain here until Saturday.

All past attendance records were broken when more than 200,000 persons from the mid-west area visited the annual coal and stoker exposition in the Chicago Coliseum during the first week in May.

TO THE SAVINGS BANK!

If you're a thrifty soul, you'll want to go right from your A&P Market to your little pantry bank to deposit the cash savings you've made. Or, maybe you prefer to use these cash savings to buy family needs at your favorite department store. In either case, two things you'll find outstanding here—the huge variety of items (2000) and the amazingly low prices every day of the week. That's because we do such big business, that such a small profit, cut out so many in-between profits, save in so many ways—and share all savings with you. Come—save as you spend.

Won't Leave Vatican
Rome, June 6 (AP)—Pope Pius XII has informed his intimates that he would not leave Vatican City whatever happens in Rome, Vatican circles said today. It was reported, however, that the papal secretariat of state might go to a neutral country, possibly Portugal, in order to maintain communications with other belligerent countries after Italy's expected entrance into the war. Installations of blue lights and curtains have been in Vatican City to enable that tiny community to be blocked out at the same time as surrounding Rome.

American Airlines will use a total of approximately 15,000,000 gallons of gasoline in 1940.

Collide on Bridge
There was a collision on the Rondout bridge, about 2:45 o'clock this morning between a truck owned by Lewis Newhof & Son, 410 South Pearl street, Albany, and driven by William Kelch of Albany, and a 1939 sedan, owned and driven by Stephen Dickhaut, 65 Main street, Saugerties. The sedan was taken to the Doc Smith garage. Deputy Sheriff McCullough, who investigated for the sheriff's office, reported no injuries and no arrests.

To-Hold Clinic
The pre-natal clinic will be held at the Benedictine Hospital Friday afternoon, June 7, from 1 to 2 o'clock. Expectant mothers who attend this clinic will receive medical attention and advice.

Four Persons Killed
Berlin, June 6 (AP)—Four persons were killed and others were wounded in allied air raids over Gelsenkirchen and Recklinghausen, southwest of Munster, and Buderich and Herten, in Rhenish Prussia, the German news agency, D.N.B., reported today. The bombings, the night of June 4, were said by German sources to have been on residential sections where there are no military objectives.

Miss Van Cortlandt Dies
Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y., June 5 (AP)—Miss Anne Stevenson Van Cortlandt, 92, the last direct descendant of a family distinguished in public and military service since the Dutch ruled New York, died last night in the great manor house here. In the late years she managed the estate of her father, Pierre Van Cortlandt 3d, who died in 1884.

V.F.W. Will Hold Affair at Barn

Among the varied acts secured for the Veterans of Foreign Wars ball on June 10 appears the name of Miss Jean Molyneux, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. A. Molyneux, who plays the piano accordion.

During the summer season of 1938 Miss Molyneux was at Williams Lake and in 1939 appeared at the Town Tavern in Hunter, where she has signed another contract for 1940.

Miss Molyneux has just returned from Miami, where she closed a successful season playing at the Hotel Traymore.

There will be six acts of high class vaudeville and judging from the advance sale of tickets there will be a capacity crowd.

The music will be by Arnold Stanley featuring Emily Lynn Clark, vocalist.

The Veterans will also have as their guest, Miss Virginia Hoffman, the recently crowned Apple Blossom Queen of Ulster county.

WALLKILL

Wallkill, June 6.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Overfield and daughter, Ruth, of Washingtonville, and Howard Ronk and daughter, Marilyn, of Poughkeepsie, visited their aunt, Mrs. Nettie Travis, Thursday.

Howard and Robert Terwilliger, students of Drew University, Madison, N. J., returned to their home Monday for the summer vacation.

Miss Lois Morehouse spent the week-end at Plattkill with Miss Frances Dibble.

Anton Stauttner, of Port Chester and friend, Miss Marjorie Stults, of Yonkers, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stauttner.

The annual strawberry festival of the Willing Workers of the Reformed church will be held on the church lawn Thursday evening, June 20. A supper will be served at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Teller and daughter, Betty and Helen Morehouse, visited Mrs. Eva Sherman, of Stone Ridge, Sunday.

Mrs. Ada Billings, of Pine Bush spent the week-end with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Caswell.

Mrs. Jesse McHugh and children, Jack and Thomas, spent the week-end at Port Byron, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Chrisman.

Mrs. Macey Van Wagenen, Mrs. Harry Dunn, Mrs. Harry McCord and Miss Ella Phinney attended the Hudson River District D. A. R. meeting at Quaker Hill on Tuesday.

Lincoln D. Relyea, of Mitchell Field spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Relyea.

Local firemen and their families, who visited the Firemen's Home at Hudson on Sunday afternoon were: Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ulrich, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kaup and daughter, Pauline, Mr. and Mrs. George Hammesfahr and daughter, Marion, and Mrs. Joseph Doolittle, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McHugh and daughter, Joyce, Miss Eleanor Coddington, Mrs. Kuni Ulrich, Mrs. Samuel Bowden and children, Marietta, Marguerite and Sammy.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Klonowski and son, of Kingston, were week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Christian.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haas attended the graduation exercises of the State Agriculture School at Delhi, Tuesday. Their son, Frank and Carl Brach, of Wallkill, were among the graduates.

Mrs. Robert E. Weber, of Flushing, L. I. and Miss Charlotte M. Weihe, of College Point, L. I. were week-end guests of the Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Bosch.

The Children's Day program will be given in the Reformed Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock with Mrs. Fred White and Mrs. James B. Crowell, as the committee in charge. Holy baptism of infants will also be observed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Snider of Long Island City, spent the week-end with Mr. Snider's sister, Mrs. Jennie L. Snider.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Miss Ella Phinney. The subject will be "American Indians" with Mrs. E. S. Galloway as leader. Mrs. J. A. Crowell will have charge of devotions with the Bible verse, "Friend." Tea will be served at the close of the meeting and a collection taken for the benefit of the "Burden Lake" fund. On Thursday afternoon, June 13, the society is invited to be guests at the meeting of the New Hurley Reformed Church Missionary Society at the church hall at Sherwood's Corners at 2:30 o'clock.

The Girl Scout troop committee met at the home of Mrs. Jesse McHugh Monday and discussed plans for a Girl Scout drive for funds for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carr of Northfield, Mass., and son, William Carr, of New York, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. Belle Carr.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Carey and daughter, Francis Lou, of Brooklyn, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Canary, over the week-end.

Several donations have been received by the local Red Cross chairman, Mrs. Thompson, and solicitors will canvass the village this week for the Red Cross drive for war relief funds.

Memorial Day exercises in the park under the direction of Cornelius Rose Post, No. 1034, American Legion, was well attended. The parade was colorful with the Boy and Girl Scouts in uniforms, the American Legion members in their blue and the Wallkill High School band, in their blue and white uniforms, headed by Miss Frances Dibble as drum major and the twirlers, the Misses Ruth Elder, Eleanor Anderson, Margaret Edsall, Oleida Baxter. The firemen were also in line in uniform and others in the line of march were the Knights of Pythias and school children. The Rev. A. Thurston and the Rev. Mr. Fairre gave short addresses and the Rev. W. E. Webster, the prayer, which was followed by the firing by the squad and "Taps" blown by Guy Erlandsen. A wreath was also placed on the soldier's monument by the auxiliary president, Mrs. J. A. Lipsett.

On Tuesday afternoon, during the electrical storm, lightning struck the chimney of the Ronk house, next to Ronk's garage in Wallkill, tearing it down to the roof and burning a small hole in the roof. The house is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. Hinchliffe and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wager.

At the executive meeting of the

P. T. A. of the Central school, with the president, Mrs. Alonzo Benedict of Leptondale, presiding, on Monday, committees were appointed for the coming year as follows: Program, the Rev. L. Dibble, Miss Patricia Fleming, Mrs. L. Minard, Miss Cook and Mrs. Lester Arnold; safety, the

This event will mark the beginning of a series of such meets to be held soon. Further information may be had from Charles Sass, 22 St. Mary's street.

To Attend Reception

Members of Kingston Council, No. 124, Sons and Daughters of Liberty, are planning to attend a meeting of Betsy Ross Council, No. 45, of Poughkeepsie, Saturday night, June 8. At that time the Poughkeepsie council will hold a reception, the occasion being the official visit of the state councillor, Sister Irene Hulsaple. The meeting will be held in the Odd Fellows Hall, 261 Main street, Poughkeepsie, and will start at 8 o'clock.

Fair at Mt. Marion

The Mt. Marion Reformed Church will celebrate its annual fair the afternoon and evening of July 4. There will be a prominent speaker also a fine musical program will be rendered by The Dillenbeck Melody Makers of Binghamton. A display of fancywork, such as handmade rugs, quilts, all kinds of hand-embroidered articles will be held. At 3:30 p. m., one of the popular chicken dinners will be served in the church hall until all are served. Homemade ice cream and candy will be on sale.

LEIBHARDT

Liebhards, June 6—Jerry S. Quick recently purchased a cow from Mrs. John Schindler. Mr. and Mrs. William Brown returned to their home Sunday after a visit with their son, and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, of Ilion. Nial Vanvoegen of Tabasco has recently sold his property. Mrs. Roy Allen, has returned to her home in Rochester Center, after being ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lorn Krom, in Napamoch. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Markle were callers Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gray, in Tabasco, also with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pollack.

Women to Meet

The Women's Missionary Society will meet tomorrow afternoon in the Sunday School room. Roll call "Understanding." The subject will be "New Thoughts for Old," and will touch upon race relations. Leader, Miss Anna Searle.

How Mars Got His Wings

It's Not 'Mostest Men' But Planes That Decide Outcome Of Battles Today

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
AP Feature Service Writer
Washington—The nation with planes to burn wins the battle—perhaps the war!

That's air power.

Until May 10, when the Germans started their blitzkrieg through western Europe, air power was largely an academic argument between armchair generals—the kind of word tempest that disgraces such great prophets as General Billy Mitchell of the U. S. Air Service.

More than a decade ago, Billy Mitchell told the generals what was coming. But he couldn't prove it.

Now it has happened.

Go behind the scenes with the military men. Let them point out on maps the German drive through the low countries and France.

"Blitzkrieg?" you ask.

"No," they answer. "AIR POWER!"

German air power blasted every step of the way, told the motorized corps where the enemy waited in force, and protected it from devastating assaults from French and British bombers.

The German planes zoomed out in full daylight, exposed to the aim of enemy pursuit ships and anti-aircraft fire. Hundreds of pilots paid the penalty of daylight air war; but many completed their missions of spying, bombing, spotting artillery.

And the Germans still have planes to spare!

The Allies have no planes to spare, so they roar out in force mainly at night. Their aim is poor then, but they avoid widespread destruction.

All of this adds up to German air supremacy—temporarily, at least.

Some Saw It Coming

Strange this should have happened when there were so many ominous warnings in the sky.

The first of these was the ghost of Baron von Richthofen, Germany's World War ace of aces, who discovered the germ of air power when he invented his flying circus. Those roving German airmen proved that superior air force at a critical point could prove a decisive factor in warfare.

Then Billy Mitchell told anybody who'd listen that armies were no longer front line forces, but holding forces.

A few years later, Charles A. Lindbergh unwittingly gave air power its greatest shove forward when he flew to Paris, fired the world's imagination, started commercial aviation toward greater heights.

Each new advance was absorbed into military aviation, especially by the Germans. Other nations were not so fast to recognize that command of the land and the sea were insufficient.

Preview in Spain's War

In 1938 came the Spanish civil war, and Munich, when Hitler's threat of air power brought a humiliating peace to most of Europe.

Let Spanish Loyalist Pilot Eugene Finck tell the story of a wrecked Italian blitzkrieg at Guadalajara:

"Here were nearly 40,000 Italians who had broken through our lines. Tanks and great motor lorries filled with troops. They came roaring along that macadamized road—a whole army on wheels.... We came over, squadrons of 15 in close formation.... We dumped every bomb we had on the tanks in front and the road—tons of high explosives.... In two minutes' time the tanks and road were a shambles...."

Two minutes! Maybe Pilot Finck exaggerated. But what would not France and Belgium have given for superior air force to blast Germany's blitzkrieg on May 10, before it got rolling?

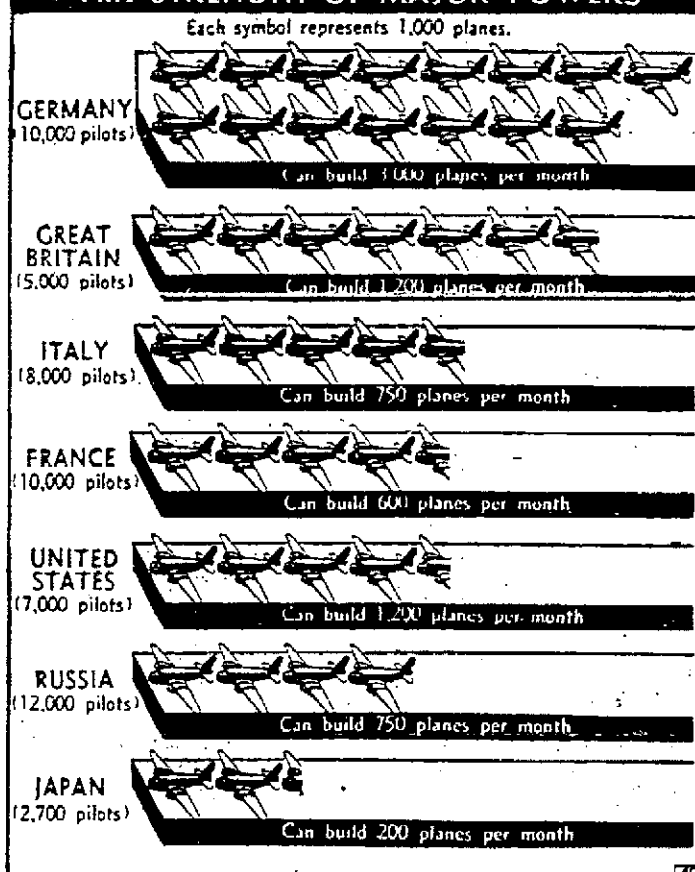

What about Germany using air power against England?

"The Germans could concentrate on docks and wharves in an attempt to starve the British. Most of Britain's food comes from the holds of ships."

British Air Group Captain L. L. MacLean says three bombers flying abreast, and carrying three tons of bombs, could devastate 102 acres.

"On this basis," he says, "820 planes could cover Hull, Newcastle, and the port of London dock area!"

AIR STRENGTH OF MAJOR POWERS

If Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest were alive today, doubtless he'd amend his famous remark. It's not the "mostest men," any more. Victory favors the side with the mostest, the fastest, and the bestest—AIR POWER!

This chart, based on best available estimates, shows first-line planes, under three years old, as of March 15.

Flashes of Life
Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)
Insurance

Miami, Fla.—An attorney protested when a juror hearing testimony in a $10,000 damage suit fell asleep, so the judge called a five-minute recess.

The sleepy juror appeared wide-awake when the jury filed back in, but soon drifted off to sleep again. The disgusted judge declared a mistrial, then began over with another jury of six.

This time, however, a seventh juror sat alone in the rear row, ready to serve if one of the regulars couldn't resist a nap.

Jones, Jones & Jones

Brigham City, Utah—Kenneth C. Jones, 21, and Donna Veda Jones, 18, obtained a marriage license. Jones' father is John Jones. So is Donna Veda's father. They're not related.

Foot to Spare

Boone, Ia.—Come what may, a baby chick owned by Mrs. Bessie Morain has plenty of locomotion power. It was hatched with an extra leg and foot protruding from its tail, but in spite of the additional appendage, the chick is doing well.

All Balled Up

Chicago—Several members of the county highway police force saw white dots in front of their eyes—1,500 of 'em in fact.

The "dots" were golf balls which the officers talked before putting their charges against four men, accused of stealing exactly 1,500 balls from a golf practice range.

Forecast: Snow

Rocky Mountain National Park, Colo.—Elkhorn Mountain is as bare of snow as an elk's horn. But one June 16 there will be 12 to 18 inches of snow on Elkhorn.

Clarence Graves, chairman of a celebration of Rocky Mountain National Park's 25th anniversary, has ordered a fleet of trucks and a miniature railway to haul tons of snow there for the ski jumping tournament June 16.

Small Distinctions

Lausanne, Switzerland (AP)—Monsieur Huguenin of the village of Teudeluz belongs to that fraternity whose mania is constructing the "world's smallest, this-or-that." M. Huguenin, whose specialty is electrical engines, is busily competing with himself.

Last year he exhibited an electrical motor weighing sixteen grams (.564 ounce avoirdupois) housed in a match box. It was exhibited at the Swiss National Exposition, billed as the world's smallest electrical engine—and there were no challengers. This year M. Huguenin has constructed an electrical motor weighing only six grams (.212 ounce avoirdupois) which he has placed inside a pearl lent by a jeweler. He says that given time (he's only 45 now) he may do even better than that.

Master Diving in Simple Steps

Timid about swimming and as for diving—the idea scares her to death. She refuses to believe that she could plunge in merrily instead of entering the water a piece at a time.

Fear of the water may be easily overcome with right instruction and practice. You can swim and dive confidently, win admiration for your skill.

To get used to plunging in the water, do your first dive from a sitting position on the edge of the pool. Brace feet on the trough below, extend arms straight in front, lower head and fall forward and down. As you fall, push with your feet.

Now, you're ready to try a standing position. Extend arms and lean forward, as in diagram. Keeping head well down, push off with your feet and, as you enter the water, extend legs fully.

When you want to come up, turn head and hands up—that's all!

You can as easily learn to do popular swimming strokes well.

Our 32-page booklet gives diagrams and instructions for the dive, American crawl, back stroke, back crawl, side stroke, trudgen, trudgen crawl, breast stroke. Tells how to float, tread water, do racing start and turns. Includes safety tips.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of HOW TO BE A GOOD SWIMMER to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

"I was amazed it cost so little—to telephone so far!"

... Based on a letter to MARTHA DEANE, Famous Radio Personality

1 "My husband heard that his sister in California was ill. He spent sleepless nights worrying about her."

2 "Knowing that Long Distance rates are lower after 7 p.m., I suggested he call her by telephone."

3 "He talked with his sister. And how the sound of her voice cheered him up!"

4 "I was amazed how little it cost—and what pleasure it gave them both."

NO DOUBT about it—Long Distance gives you your money's worth in pleasure and satisfaction many times over. Not only when you are concerned about some one far away. But when you wish you could be there in person to offer congratulations on a happy event—an engagement—anniversary—birthday. Or just to chat with Mother and Dad now and then.

After all it is cheap—especially after 7 p.m. and all day every Sunday when Long Distance rates to most places are most appealing. New York Telephone Company.

Mired Truck Is Salvaged

Bill Buley of this city didn't mind the warm spell yesterday, for he spent the greatest part of the afternoon in the water of the Esopus Creek near the viaduct trying to remove this truck. The truck was driven down to the beach about a week ago for a load of sand. After loading the truck the driver found that it was impossible to get it back on the road. While the driver went for help the water rose to such a height that it was impossible to remove the truck.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The Kingston High School Honor Society last week held another of its vocational programs in which the students participated. Many said the movie shown in the auditorium on photography was the most popular and interesting.

Speakers for the afternoon were: Medicine, Dr. Taylor, head of the city laboratory; electric engineering, Arthur Colligan, head of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company; agriculture, Albert Kurl, head of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau; journalism, Charles E. Gradwell of Woodstock; chemistry, Dr. Ellerbrook of the city laboratory; photography, a motion picture distributed by the Eastman Kodak Company.

The last informal get-together of the senior class of 1940 will be held next Friday, June 7, when the Ellis T. Bookwalter Chapter of the Hi-Y will hold its second annual senior picnic. The idea of promoting an informal outdoor celebration especially for the graduating class was originated by the late Mr. Bookwalter in 1939. Although only a small group of seniors attended last year's outing at Camp Premauer, everyone voted the affair an outstanding success.

In the afternoon softball, swimming, horseshoe pitching and hiking will be on the schedule for the students. Then during the late afternoon and evening dancing will be held. For those who cannot procure transportation to the outing, Frank Simpson and his committee will supply the necessary means. At this time, it is being attempted to charter a bus. Although the Hi-Y picnic is primarily for the Class of '40, any senior can ask an underclassman.

"The Fourteenth Veteran" by Helen Waite Munro and coached by Harry Streifer, was enacted on the stage of the Myron Michael School recently. This play was a part of the historical assembly relating to Memorial Day. The M. J. M. orchestra, under the supervision of Miss Eleanor Lawatsch, played patriotic songs and marches. The characters in the "Fourteenth Veteran" were Grandfather Stevens, Leonard Rabin, John Mitchell, John Harlin, Mrs. Carrigan, Florence Moltz, Wayne, Arthur Peck, Christine, Helen Larkin, and Sylvester Moran, Carol Summers.

A group of students representing the local chapter of the National Honor Society, traveled to Hudson High School recently to officiate in the induction of another chapter. Jules Viglielmo, president of the Manning Chapter, officiated at the ceremonies and was assisted by Jane Gildersleeve, vice-president; Donald Fields, secretary; Lillie Pearson, treasurer; and Charles Fawcner, Valetorian of the Class of 1940. Principal Clarence L. Dumm presented Mr. Ackerman, principal of the Hudson High School, with the new chapter.

Three Kingston High School seniors, Marion Smith, Florence Elston and Anne Tresvick were the winners in the parking meter contest sponsored by Richard Meyer, local jeweler. Miss Smith received as first prize, an American Elgin wrist watch, while Miss Elston was given second place and an award of a Shaeffer pen and pencil set. A Richelieu pearl necklace was awarded to Miss Tresvick. Judges for the essay contest were Mr. St. John and Mr. Williams.

Hi-Y Officers

Howard St. John was elected president of the 1940-41 Hi-Y organization recently. Other officers include Clifford Every, vice-president; Thomas Cully, treasurer; Robert Flicker, secretary; Robert Brown, sergeant-at-arms. Richard Whiston was again elected as advisor.

When Charles H. Fawcner's high senior rating was announced recently (over a span of four years) the office staff also announced high averages, which date back to 1929. The averages from that date are: 1929, Harriet Cranston, 93.65; 1930, Howard A. Thomas, 93.34; 1931, Ruth Stevens, 91.72; 1932, Allan H. Lewis, 95.12; 1933, John W. Clark, 94.71; 1934, Morris Michael, 94.37; Donald McCausland in 1935, 94.63; 1936, Harry France, 91.206; 1937, Jean Elwyn, 95.95; 1938, Virginia Boggs, 95.026; 1939, William Sharkey, 95.540.

With the school sport's calendar just about finished for the year, the new cheer leaders for the 1940-41 season were announced in the last term of Home Room.

The official high school newsgoan. Those selected to lead the next year's rooters are: Rose Abernethy, Nancy Boice, Betty Boyce, Helen Butler, Mary Collins, Marianne Davis, Shirley Doyle, Judy Fessenden, John Fitzsimmons, Marjorie Garland, Isabelle Guzman, Alice McGowan, Doris Merrill, Shirley Scott, Ruth Schultis, Marian Tongue, Albert Wright and Robert Fulton.

Under the direction of Miss Dralle, the eighth and ninth grade rooms of the Myron J. Michael School are conducting interesting art projects. Rooms 9 and 10 have chosen "Transportation" as their project. Room 8's choice was "Lumbering." Room 2 is drawing some of the scenes from the life of Henry Aldrich.

French Trap Tanks With New Plan

tillery action, as well as east of the Oise river.

Meanwhile Britain's "parashots" stood on guard against possible attempted Nazi parachute troop landings in the wake of the heaviest German bombing attack yet to hit England.

The Nazi bombers dropped high explosive and incendiary missiles along a 270-mile stretch of east coast from Yorkshire to Kent.

The German bombers attacking England apparently were aiming at airports, the air ministry reported, and dropped explosives in Yorkshire, Lincolnshire, Norfolk and along the busy banks of the Thames.

One raider was reported apparently shot down and six persons were hurt, but damage was slight, the British announced.

The government renewed appeals to parents to register their children for removal to safer areas.

The German military command contended that its new and mammoth drive against the French, with hardly a moment's breathing spell since completion of the furious 26-day Flanders campaign, already had broken through the French defenses in two telling thrusts.

One drive is toward Paris, the other toward the channel port of Le Havre, with the aim of separating the French from their British allies, the Germans said.

In the Far East, the government of British Hongkong ordered all Germans to leave by June 11. About 70 families are affected by the order.

Nothing to Say

New York, June 6 (AP)—Alexander C. Kirk, charge d'affaires of the American embassy in Berlin, arrived today from Europe aboard the Atlantic Clipper. Asked whether he brought with him a letter from King Leopold of Belgium to President Roosevelt, he replied: "There simply is nothing that I can say."

Brooklyn Youth Arrested in City

George Murdock, 17, of Brooklyn, was arrested this morning on Delaware avenue by Motorcycle Officer George Bowers. The youth was arraigned later in police court on two charges, one of operating a car without having either an operator's or chauffeur's license, and the other of not having a certificate of registration for the car.

Judge Matthew V. Cahill sentenced the youth to six days in the county jail on the charge of not having the driving license, and adjourned the hearing on the registration charge to next Tuesday.

The jail sentence was imposed to give the local police an opportunity to check on the youth's story as to how he acquired the automobile.

According to the police the car is a 1939 Plymouth sedan, and Murdock claimed he bought it for $100 in Brooklyn.

HIGH TIDE

By Frances Hanna

YESTERDAY: Jan decides to sketch, instead of paint, using her cat, Neptune, for a model. Pleased with the results she sends the sketches to a woman's magazine. Derek asks her to go on a spree.

Chapter 22 Man Of Mystery

THE suit Rose wanted to lend her was too large for Jan. "A couple of safety pins will fix it," Rose decided, expertly adjusting the skirt and pinning the waistband snugly. "There, now, it's all right. What about shoes? I know you couldn't wear mine."

"I've a pair of white pumps left over from last summer," Jan turned to go, her smock over her arm, the blue hat in her hand. "Will you go in to see Lance before you leave?"

Rose frowned, fumbled in her tiny, brilliant-set bag for a cigarette, put it between her lips and lit it before answering. "I thought it better not to go," she answered. "I seem to upset him. Johnny will have a fit if I'm any later."

Jan went on out, saying, "Thanks for the loan of the clothes. I'll be careful of them."

"Don't be," Rose admonished, closing the door. "If I didn't live here with you I wouldn't be able to afford the sort of clothes I need. Have fun tonight with your man of mystery!"

"Man of mystery?" Rose smiled slowly, wisely. "Well, isn't that young handsome sophisticated, obviously educated and far too experienced for the role he is playing. I think he's hiding from something or someone. Well, murder usually does."

Jan thought of Derek's words: "Women and their hateful, probing curiosity!" She answered nothing, however, and went on to her own room.

Before going downstairs to join Derek she stepped in to see Lance. He had turned off all the lights except a dim night lamp and the room was cloudy with cigarette smoke. The heaped ashtrays attested to his incessant nervous smoking.

"You need some air in here," she said and opened two of the windows for a minute.

He demanded sharply, "Where's Rose? I haven't seen her all day."

"She went to the Club for dinner."

"I heard you talking to her a minute ago in the hall."

"I know. She was just leaving."

The tip of his cigarette burned with red fierceness. "Well, she could have stopped in a minute. Close those windows, will you? I'm cold. I'm a fool," he went on with derisive bitterness. "Why should I expect her to be interested in a dumpy, crippled, legless, lame, old man? What in hell is the use of dragging two dead legs around? Jan, you've got to do something for me. I can't go on this way—buried alive in this room—slowly going mad, and maybe not so slowly."

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

One reason that we prefer a barking dog to a calamity howler is that you can throw something at the dog to drive him away and generally you have to endure the other.

Try this on your wife: "Bride—My husband admires my taste in hats so much he never likes to have me discard one."

Mr. Longwood—My husband also wants me to keep on wearing my old hats, but he isn't clever enough to think up as nice an excuse as that.

The BEST companion for a hay ride is a GRASS widow.

Judge—Did you hit this man in an excess of irascibility? Rastus—No, sah, Judge. Ah jes' hit him in de stummock.

"A Man Wrapped Up In Himself Makes A Small Package."

Young Frenchman (sighing)—Your English language will drive me mad.

British Friend—What's worrying you now, Pierre?

Pierre (groaning)—I will never understand it quite, although I try so hard. Yesterday my English employer said to me: "Do not waste the electricity, please. I do not want to have a heavy light bill."

Americane

The following verses point out some of the stumbling blocks in the way of the foreigner who is studying our language:

Bear is like bare, and pear is like pair.

But tear is pronounced tier and tare.

Though hear is like here, and sear is like here.

And dear, shear like deer and sheer.

Beat's not like great, nor beak like break.

And neither is freak like steak: While beam, strange to say, will rhyme with seam.

As well as with cream and dream. Feign, deign, and reign rhyme with fain, Dane and rain.

As well as with skein, rein, and vein.

Although sew is like so, still new is like gnu.

And ewe we pronounce just like you.

Though dough rhymes with doe, and rough with ruff;

Enough, tough and sough with gruff.

But cough rhymes with off, and bough is like bow.

While plough is the same word as plow.

With bow, too, like beau, we have dough like doe.

And grow, glow, and owe sound like go.

But growl is like owl, while grown, mown and own

Don't rhyme well with brown, out with bone.

Wolf's not life golf, nor draught like caught.

But bought, brought and thought are like ought.

Food's not like good, nor foot like boot.

Although brute, fruit, and route are like hoot.

Blood is like mud, and door rhymes with ore.

And so do the words four and floor.

Could rhymes with would, with hood, stood, and good.

But shoulder is no kin to should. Freight, eight and weight will rhyme well with date.

But height rhymes with kite, not Kate.

Plague rhymes with vague, as well as with Haig.

But argue is not pronounced egg. Guile rhymes with mile, but guilt is like kilt.

As well as the words quilt and built.

Guile is like gild, and build rhymes with skilled.

But mild is not pronounced milled.

A customer sat down at a table in a smart restaurant and tied a napkin around his neck. The scandalized manager called a waiter and instructed him, "Try to make him understand as tactfully as possible, that that's not done." Said the thoughtful waiter to the customer:

Waiter—Pardon me, sir! Shave or hair cut, sir!

Many a man has been stung trying to get a little honey for himself.

'Eternal Hall of Records'

Being Hewn in Black Hills

An eternal Hall of Records—great chambers hewn out of solid granite, where artifacts of present and future generations will be preserved—is to be part of the development at Mount Rushmore National Memorial in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Behind the granite summit on which the faces of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt are being carved in gigantic proportions, is a chasm 150 feet deep.

Into the wall of this Gutzon Borglum, sculptor and engineer for the memorial, is blasting a vast tunnel which, when completed, will provide a great subterranean hall with adjoining chambers.

Unlike the crypts in the Egyptian pyramids or the "Time Capsule" at the New York World's fair, it is not the plan to seal this hall, but to maintain therein a continuing record of civilization's rise (or decline).

Experts believe that the man-made cavern, hewn out of solid rock, will endure for thousands of years and that generations ages hence may behold there objects that will seem as ancient to them as Stone Age implements appear to Twentieth century man.

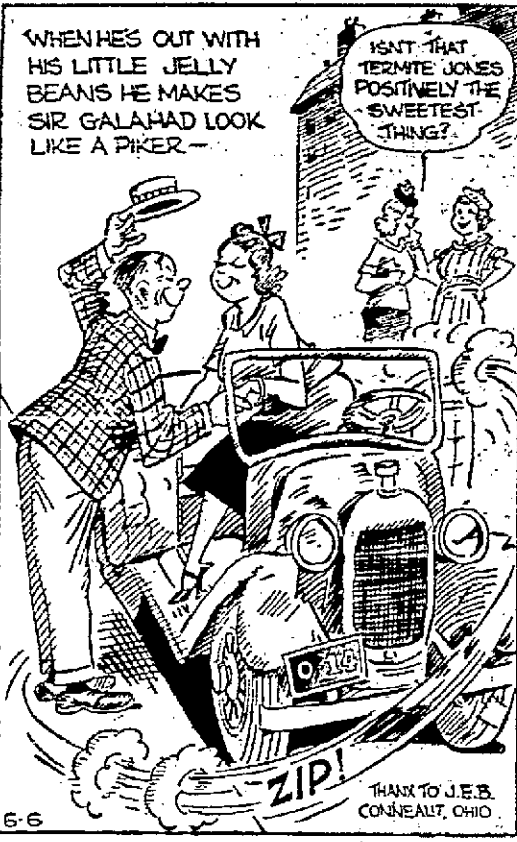

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME.

GREYHOUND LINES

By L. L. STEVENSON

Reward: The woman was old. In her arms were two large bundles. She looked worried as she stood waiting for a Broadway bus. Another woman, also gray-haired, approached and she smiled. She could get on the bus all right, she explained to the newcomer, if someone would help her merely by dropping her fare into the box. The other woman graciously replied that she would be glad to oblige. The woman with the bundles handed her five pennies. Just then the bus came along and they both got aboard, the woman with the bundles hurrying past the fare box to the nearest seat. The other woman dropped in her nickel and the five pennies. And with that, there was such an explosion on the part of the bus driver that her face turned scarlet. It seems that it is against rules and regulations to drop pennies into a fare box, only nickels or dimes being acceptable.

Street Scene: The shopping hours on Fifth avenue . . . Crowds pouring in and out of the huge stores . . . Women, their arms laden with bundles, stopping to do window shopping . . . Tenement urchins darting here and there, their griminess in contrast with the neatness of the shoppers . . . A traffic cop inquiring, "Wanna get killed?" as a jaywalker strolls into the street . . . A good-looking boy walking along and paying no attention to passers-by . . . A lovely lady crosses his path just in time to catch her heel in the cuff of his trousers . . . Both take a tumble . . . The boy actually blushes . . . But the girl carries off the incident in the grand manner.

Display: The young woman who looks after the branch telegraph office in a midtown hotel is accustomed to all sorts of questions and requests but when a man, evidently a guest in the hotel, came up and asked for glue she was stopped, since such wasn't included in the supplies. The man insisted that he had to have the glue and incidentally mentioned that he was a big shot from Peoria and had just returned from a trip around the world. Her interest aroused, the young woman finally asked him why the need of glue was so urgent.

"Well, you see," explained the Peoriaite, "one of the labels on my grip has come loose and I want to paste it back on."

Useful: On my desk is Larry Nixon's "American Vacations," published by Little, Brown & Co., which is a fitting companion for his "Vagabond Voyages." Packed in its pages is valuable information for anyone planning to go away for a few days or a few months, hiking, camping, motoring, seafaring, or by train. Not only does Larry list the attractions each state has to offer, but also gives costs. There is especial appeal for those of moderate means since many instances are cited of how a vacation dollar may be stretched.

End Piece: Since New York fishermen are again throwing flies at trout, Milton Berle's story about two brothers who went fishing together seems to fit in. One brother had all the luck, hauling in fish after fish while the other got nary a nibble. The same thing happened the next day. The third day the luckless brother went out alone. For hours he sat in the boat and nothing happened. As he started to row home angrily, a big fish poked its head out of the water.

"Hey, buddy," inquired the fish, "where's your brother?"

Must Be Something In His Rabbit Foot
BROOKFIELD, MO. — Leo Norvel, grocery man, is saving the rabbit's foot he had in his pocket recently while attending an entertainment. During the evening he won prizes for being the heaviest man in the audience, having the biggest feet and bringing the largest family. To top it off he was handed the prize that went to the patron in the "lucky seat."

Kilmer Was Right
Hampdenville, Ky. — They sent for a plasterer when a wall in a local restaurant began to bulge. The plasterer discovered a tree, seven inches in diameter, growing inside the wall. What puzzled him was the fact that the tree, despite absence of soil or sunlight, was growing five feet above the ground.

Ortale Injured In Auto Crash

Louis John Ortale of 406 Broadway, Newburgh, son of Gaetano Ortale, who runs Fischer's Hotel on the Strand, was badly cut up and bruised when his sedan ran into the rear of a truck about two miles north of Highland at 12:25 o'clock this morning.

Investigation by Sergeant Hulse and Trooper Benson of Highland disclosed that Ortale was following the truck, which belongs to the Neilson Express Trucking Company of Stillwater and was being driven by Elmer LeTourneau. Apparently Ortale fell asleep and his new Chevrolet crashed into the rear of the truck. LeTourneau told Sergeant Hulse that following the crash he looked around and saw Ortale sitting in the road, dazed.

Ortale was treated by Dr. Carl F. Meekins of Highland for deep gashes in the face and forehead, a broken nose and lacerations and abrasions on his hands and knees. He was brought to the home of his father in Kingston.

They're a Fighting Family
Clarksville, Mo. (P)—Bertram Julier of Clarksville has 26 nephews and great nephews in the military or naval service of Great Britain. Another nephew, Henry Julier, was killed in the battle between the Exeter and the German pocket battleship Graf Spee off Montevideo. Bertram, himself, was born in England and served in the British navy during the Boxer rebellion and in the United States Navy during the World War.

GRANGE NEWS

Clintondale

The next regular meeting of Clintondale Grange on Monday evening, June 17, promises to be one of unusual interest and it is hoped a large number will be present. Ezra McIntosh of the Kingston broadcasting station has promised to be present to speak about radio and its accomplishments. Lecturer Catherine Schepmoes has planned a musical program in addition. Important matters of business will be discussed so a full evening is anticipated. The social and hospitality will hold a supper on June 6.

AMERICA'S BIGGEST LINER ON TRIAL RUN

The largest liner ever built in America, the S. S. America, churns up the foam off the Virginia Capes in her builder's trials, with her name, registry and the Stars and Stripes plainly painted on her hull. The 30,000-ton ship, 733 feet long, and capable of carrying 1,200 passengers and crew of 639, was built at Newport News, Va.

Stamps In The News

By the AP Feature Service
France, in the midst of war, sprung a surprise on the stamp world. Without any of the fanfare that usually precedes the arrival of a new French issue, a red and white semi-postal has just reached the United States. The mystery is more puzzling because of the design. The stamp bears the French for "France Overseas 1940." It shows an outline map of the world, with French colonies and France itself blocked in solid color. If France is boasting of her colonial possessions at this critical time in her history, why should the stamp arrive unheralded? The 1-f plus 25-c adhesive has a border design of tropical fruits and plants.

Here is how France and her colonies stood at the start of World War No. 2: France: area, 550,986 square miles; population, 41,834,923; French colonies: area, 10,941,330 square miles; population, 58,642,000.

French colonies are in two groups. One includes an outline of the first empire, lost in the 18th century, and the other of acquisitions of the 19th century. The "old colonies," often called aristocrats, are St. Pierre and Miquelon on the Canadian coast; Martinique and Guadeloupe with dependencies in the West Indies; Guiana in South America; five enclaves in the British East Indies, of which Pondicherry is the most important; and Reunion, in the Indian ocean near Mauritius. Sometimes Tahiti and New Caledonia are grouped with the old colonies as well as the Hebrides, held jointly with Great Britain. Algeria and Tunisia, with expansions from both, make up a vast area of 19th century acquisitions. Djibouti and Madagascar, the latter the third largest island in the world, stand alone. In Asia, there is French Indo-China.

The Northern Africa territories are only six hours by air from France. And railway and aerial routes spread from Northern Africa toward tropical and equatorial territories as an important link to France.

Tunisia, Morocco and Syria are under the French foreign ministry, the others under colonial ministry. The Conseil Supérieur des Colonies is an advisory group in Paris on which the colonies have representatives. The old colonies and the Algerian departments and Cochinchina are represented in the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies.

Another unheralded semi-postal comes from Germany—a symbolic adhesive showing a picture of armed warrior straddling a scene of ploughed farm and city.

and an inset of a rising sun. It's a 6-pfg plus 4 with green print.

No definite date comes from Washington for the introduction of air mail service between Seattle, Wash., and Juneau, Alaska, via Ketchikan although announcement of the opening of the oversea route is expected soon. The usual treatment of philatelic mail is to be in effect, the Post Office department announced recently.

National Philatelic Week is set for the week of November 10. The Federation of Stamp clubs is again sponsor.

A series of stamps bearing the portrait head of Rajah Sava Pratap has been issued by a Central India state, Orcha.

TILLSON

Thursday Memorial Day, was a busy one at the Rosendale cemetery. People from far and near came to decorate the graves of friends and relatives with flags on soldier's graves and the bright flowers in pots and vases.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shafer were a cousin, Viola Orin and her friend, Mrs. Weeks of Ossining, and Mrs. Harry Smith of Marlborough. Sunday they entertained her son, Gordon Eckert and wife, of Poughkeepsie. Mr. and Mrs. Shafer called last week on a friend in Rossville, he had not seen in 48 years.

Mrs. E. H. Demarest has been busy this week planting here lily pool and the neighbors will soon be enjoying looking at the beautiful scene it presents.

THE VLY

The Vly, June 6—Mr. and Mrs. William Bleier are at Rocky Ridge cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Moses Van Demark, who is at the Benedictine Hospital, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Linge and family spent the week-end at their summer home here.

The Evangelistic services held at the chapel by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williamson were well attended.

Clyde Palen and family, also Cornelius Palen spent the holiday with their mother, Mrs. Theodore Palen.

Peder Olsen, of Brooklyn spent a few days at the home of his son, Oscar E. Olsen.

The Vly Methodist church services are held at 2:30 p. m. and are conducted by the Rev. Eaton.

Minor Tragedy

Crestline, O. (P)—A set of false teeth delayed a Big Four freight 15 minutes. Trainmen said the conductor lost the set while leaning over the caboose platform. He stopped the train for a futile search. A telegraph operator found the teeth next day.

Helps to Remove Clothing Stains

Ithaca, N. Y., June 6.—A big help in the removal of stains from clothing is a stain-removal kit. For the contents of the kit, the New York state college of home economics suggests the following materials, many of which are already in the house:

Absorbent cloths; medicine droppers; bowls; soap flakes; soap; Fullers earth, absorbent; iron-rust soap, for removing iron rust and many other stains; ammonium hydroxide, 10 per cent solution (may remove, color), for neutralizing acids; detergent, for removing grease stains and dirt on dark woollens, potassium permanganate, bleach; oxalic-acid crystals (poison), for removing iron rust (with hot water).

Oxalic-acid solution, bleach for removing brown stain left by potassium permanganate when used on cotton, linen or silk; Javelle water, bleach (will remove color and will injure silk and wool); acetic acid, for neutralizing Javelle water; peroxide, mild bleach, may be used on silk and wool, also to remove brown stain left by potassium permanganate on wools.

Glycerine, for tannin stains; carbon tetrachloride, grease solvent, non inflammable; amyl acetate, for removing cod liver oil stains; turpentine, for removing paint; "Hypo" (sodium thiosulfate), for removing iodine; and sodium hydroxide, bleaching agent and for removing dyes.

For ways to remove various stains from any kinds of fabrics the college offers its bulletin E-355 on "Spot and Stain Removal." It is sent free to New York state residents from the Mailing Room, Robert Hall, Ithaca, New York.

School Girls Hold Play Day at Park

Thirty-three girls from Schools 5 and 1 met at Hutton Park Wednesday after school to participate in a play day, with the girls from the rooms of Miss Catherine Brennan and Miss Miriam Halloran, School 5, acting as hostesses.

The group was divided into two color teams composed of members of both schools with Colleen Connan as captain of the Blue team and Ardath Kersta captain of the Red team. Seven innings of softball were played.

Officials for the game were members of the hostess school, Carol Marks and Bernice DeGraff, score keepers, and Sally Gemmel and Bernice Tucker, umpires.

After the game the group enjoyed supper in the park, lemonade being furnished by School No. 5.

In carrying out the idea of a play day the girls play together for sociability rather than competing against each other. The play day has all the advantages of competition without the disadvantages of hard feelings and nervous tension, and was held under the supervision of Miss Helen Bradburn, supervisor of physical education in the grade schools, as part of the activities of the department of physical education.

The girls of No. 5 school are planning to ask one of the other schools to play with them at a future date.

Banana Cakes Have 'What It Takes'

Bananas have decorated cakes for 10, a long time. Bananas have gone into butter frosting for a lesser period. Bananas have teamed up with whipped cream for fillings and toppings. But bananas right in the batter of the cake are newest—and some say, best. Bananas have vitamins and minerals and other good reasons for eating them; they have a real record as budget-guardians. Bananas have a well call it a way with them, and find out what we mean when you make these cakes:

Banana Layer Cake
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup mashed ripe bananas (2 to 3)
3/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk
Use ripe bananas. (yellow peel flecked with brown) Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Beat shortening until creamy. Add sugar gradually and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each addition until fluffy. Stir in vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with combined bananas and milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Turn into 2 greased 9-inch layer pans and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes, or until cake is done. Spread Custard Cream Filling between and on top of layers and garnish with ripe banana slices.

Banana Chocolate Cake
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup mashed ripe bananas (2 to 3)
3/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk
Use ripe bananas. (yellow peel flecked with brown) Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Beat shortening until creamy.

Add sugar gradually and continue beating until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time beating after each addition until fluffy. Add chocolate and mix thoroughly. Stir in vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with bananas and milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Turn into 2 well-greased 9-inch layer pans and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes, or until cake is done. Makes 1 cake.

Banana Butter Frosting
1/2 cup mashed ripe banana (1 large banana)
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 cup butter
3 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
Use ripe bananas. (yellow peel flecked with brown) Mix together banana and lemon juice. Beat butter until creamy. Add sugar and banana alternately, a small amount at a time, beating until frosting is light and fluffy. Makes about 2 1/2 cups frosting—enough to frost 18 medium-size cup cakes, or tops of two 9-inch cake layers.

Give Awards to Young Foresters

Ithaca, N. Y., June 6—Awards to outstanding 4-H forestry club members in central New York for work completed during 1939 are announced by James D. Pond, assistant extension forester at Cornell. The prizes are provided by the Syracuse Post-Standard in recognition of the work the boys and girls do to increase and conserve the forest resources of New York.

In the project for the second year, forest appreciation, each club member identified at least 15 forest trees and collected and mounted leaves, fruits and twigs of each of the trees learned.

For well-made collections, a prize of 500 forest tree seedlings was given to each of 13 club members in four counties. These are: Onondaga county, Duane J. A. Carlisle of Brewerton; Oswego county, Leitha and Roy Perkins, Alton and Marianna Swatland, and Glenn Turk, all of Williams-town; Otsego county, Wanda Dunbar of Westford, Donald Gaughan of Mt. Vision, Henry Habinc of Worcester, Tony Pollinski of Warren, and Stanley Wrench of Burlington Flats, and St. Lawrence county, Leon Macomber of Potsdam.

In the third year's work, club members improve and thin the stand on a quarter-acre woodlot. Scaling sticks, or timber-estimating sticks were given as awards to four boys in two counties. These are: Cortland county, Philip Brown and Raymond Marvin of Cortland; Otsego county, Donald Phillips of Otsego and John Rathbun of Unadilla. Rathbun will also receive a medal from the American Forestry Association of Washington, D. C., for having the best project of this type. He is the second successive forestry club member from Otsego county to win this medal, which was awarded for 1938 to Homer Fasset of East Springfield.

Club members who completed the fourth year work in log scaling and estimating the standing timber on an acre of woods received vest-pocket cameras. Three boys who earned the awards are: Otsego county, Carl Wedderspoon of Cooperstown; St. Lawrence county, William Murray of Potsdam; and Tompkins county, Clifton Page of Utica.

Takes Over Entire WESG Operation

Ithaca, N. Y., June 6.—Beginning Monday, Cornell University took over the entire operation of its radio station WESG and hereafter will originate its programs from the studios on the University campus at Ithaca.

In an effort to improve its radio service to New York state and to northern Pennsylvania, the University will enlarge its educational, cultural and news broadcasts. Many of the well known programs enjoyed by listeners will be continued, and new features added.

The University radio station, long known as WESG, has broadcast its programs from the transmitting station situated for the past 12 years on the campus at Ithaca.

Michael R. Hanna, of Utica, New York, widely known in educational and broadcasting circles throughout the northeast, has been engaged as general manager of the station. He said that programs of the Columbia broadcasting system will be increased in the station's schedule.

Local and world-wide up-to-the-minute news from the wires of the United Press and other sources will be continued and increased, together with entertainment and educational features that originate in the University, Mr. Hanna said.

Medieval Iceland, inhabited by a few thousand people, produced literature still famous.

Crisp—fresh—nut-sweet!

Who says ALL-BRAN is America's dependable laxative cereal? The one million people who choose it for breakfast, or some other meal, every day. On the average day, one million servings!

But that's only part of the story. For 20 years Americans have looked to ALL-BRAN as an answer to the problem of common constipation (due to lack of the right kind of "bulk" in the diet).

The test of science
Research scientists—both nutritionists and medical men in famous universities—have proven ALL-BRAN's effectiveness over and over again. Millions of people have used it.

Financial and Commercial

Prices Affected By New German Drive on Paris

As was to have been expected the beginning of the German drive toward Paris had its effect on prices on the Stock Exchange and quotations on various issues were off one to three points. Offerings were limited, however, and volume for the day was 670,000 shares.

Industrials in the Dow-Jones averages closed at 113.25, a new low for the year, but above the low level for the day as there was a rally in late trading, net loss for the day being 2.54 points. Ralls went to 22.94, a loss of .41 point and utilities dropped .56, to 18.10. New lows for the year were made by 35 different issues with no stock making a new high.

Commodity prices continued under pressure during the day and the Dow-Jones index made a new low at mid-day for the movement, rallying somewhat in late dealings and closing at 51.46, a loss for the day of 0.57 point. Wheat declined in early trading, off about three cents a bushel at one time, but rallied to show final losses of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents. Corn closed off 1/4 to 1 1/2 New crop cotton futures were off six to nine points. Rice futures declined the midday auto races at Washington Hollow on Memorial Day.

Losses in the more speculative bonds ranged from fractions to a full point. Investment grades eased. Foreign and U. S. Treasuries also worked lower. Poland 7s of 1947 dropped five points, to seven, a new low.

Developments in the national defense program reported to include administration regard to writing legislation providing for drafting a percentage of earnings for war loans; private industry being called on for additional business consultants for the defense commission; indications that the chemical industry in the U. S. is in a much different position than at the time of the World War and approaching self-sufficiency in basic raw materials that might be cut off from abroad by the war.

It seems to be agreed that neither the ultimate cost and cost of the government's defense program, nor the speed with which it can be carried out and paid for, are questions which can be answered on the basis of present information. About all that can be said is that apparently it will be big, expensive and comparatively slow-moving, at the start at least.

Earnings and sales reports continue generally favorable. Preliminary field sales reports to Detroit indicate that sales of new car and trucks in the domestic market during May were sizably ahead of May 1939. Sales of makes accounting for more than half the industry volume were 21 per cent above last year.

Henry Greaser is doing some work on the Cantine property.

FLORENCE ROBERTS DIES

Hollywood, June 6 (AP)—Florence Roberts, 69, who played "Grandma" in the series of Jones family pictures, was found dead today in her bed. A physician said death was due to natural causes. Miss Roberts was a popular stage favorite in the days of David Belasco. She was born in New York city.

Local Death Record

Emma L. Diehl, of 350 Hasbrouck avenue, died here last evening following a brief illness. She was a daughter of the late August and Matilda Miller Diehl, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Katherine Peters, of Providence, R. I., and two nieces of Kingston, Mrs. Theodore Floyd and Mrs. Henry Swarthout. For many years Miss Diehl was a cook at the City Home here, retiring several years ago. She was a member of the Daughters of America and the Rebekah Lodge. The funeral will be held at the Henry J. Bruck Home for Funerals, 27 Smith avenue, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be in the family plot in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Marlborough, June 6.—Many local persons attended the funeral Wednesday afternoon in Milton for Sadie Martin, widow of Fred Martin, who died in St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh, following a short illness. She was the daughter of John Coutant and the late Mrs. Coutant and had lived in Milton for about 40 years. Besides her father, five daughters survive, Mrs. Leonard Hasbrouck, Miss Josephine Martin of Milton, and Mrs. Jennie Froemel, Mrs. Mary Rhodes and Mrs. Charles Glancey, all of Marlborough; and two grandchildren, Victor Froemel and Estelle Rhodes, also of Marlborough. Burial was in the Highland cemetery.

The funeral of Harry Gallop, whose sudden and unlooked for death occurred at an early hour Wednesday morning, was held from the late home, 35 Home street Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock and was largely attended. Rabbi Harold Marateck of Congregation Ahavath Israel conducted the services at the home, assisted by Rabbi Irving Koslosky of Congregation Agudas Achim. Mr. Gallop was well and favorably known since coming to Kingston and taking over the jewelry business of the late J. A. Vignes on the Strand. Burial was made in Montrose cemetery, where Rabbi Marateck and Koslosky conducted the committal services at the grave.

Marlborough, June 6.—Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the home and at 10 o'clock a high Mass of requiem was offered in St. Mary's Church by the Rev. James Hanley, for the late John Manion, 66, who died in Vassar Brothers' Hospital, Poughkeepsie, Monday morning after an illness of about one month. Mr. Manion was born January 1, 1874, the son of the late Patrick and Ellen Cogan Manion and was a member of St. Mary's Church. He was director of the First National Bank of Marlborough and a successful fruit grower and with his son conducted for years a large trucking business. He was for years the agent for the Buick auto. Survivors are his widow, Winifred Driscoll Manion, one son, John Manion, a sister, Mrs. Daniel Gaffney, one brother, Patrick Manion; two grandchildren, James and Marion Manion, all of Marlborough. Burial was in the Lattin-town cemetery.

The funeral of little Bernice S. Mooney, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mooney of East Kingston was held from the late home this morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Colman's Church at 9:30 where the Rev. George H. McWeeney offered the Mass of the Angels for the happy repose of her soul. Mrs. Frank W. Rafferty as organist, assisted by Thomas Dolan, sang the responses during the Mass. The offertory was "O Salutaris" and at the conclusion of the Mass sang "Ave Maria." The entire class of School District No. 7, led by their teacher, Miss Mary Kelly, met at the Church and acted as an honorary escort for Shirley, as she was familiarly called by her companions. Six of her little companions, Thomas Fay, Richard Heneberry, Richard Castiglione, Francis Watzka, Thomas Clausi and Francis McCullough, acted as

Editors Resign

New York, June 6 (AP)—Resignation of Waldo Frank and Lewis Mumford, authors, as contributing editors to "The New Republic," posts each had held for 13 years, was announced today in the current issue of the weekly. The reason given for the resignations was differences over editorial policy, both Frank and Mumford feeling the publication should advocate immediate aid to the allies by the United States.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, June 6 (AP)—The position of the treasury June 4: Receipts, $21,223,603.94; expenditures, $21,099,253.20; net balance, $1,224,350.74; working balance, $1,297,330.65; customs receipts for month, $3,651,733.27; receipts for fiscal year (July 1, $5,206,844,554.12; expenditures, $6,474,293,575.59; excess of expenditures, $3,467,450,019.47; gross debt, $42,810,826,889.35; increase over previous day, $1,126,749.88; gold assets, $19,254,529,582.96.

Collision Reported

Bernard Bailey, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., reported to the sheriff's office that his car had been in collision with a car owned by Mortimer H. Block and driven by Mrs. Block. The accident happened Wednesday afternoon near Accord. No injuries reported.

Gospel Meeting

There will be a local gospel fellowship meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Patterson, Eagle's Nest, Friday night. All are welcome.

DIED

DIEHL—Emma L., on Wednesday, June 5, 1940, of 350 Hasbrouck avenue, daughter of the late August and Matilda Miller Diehl, and sister of Mrs. Katherine Peters of Providence, R. I.

Funeral services will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Home for Funerals, 27 Smith avenue, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Interment in the Wiltwyck Cemetery.

LENNARTZ—At Brooklyn, New York, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Merritt, on Wednesday evening, Sophie Lennartz, mother of Mrs. Harry Merritt, Mrs. Agnes Mohr, Albert and Charles Lennartz. In her 90th year.

'Latest' Fashion in Dogs

Dates Back 5,000 Years

In an odd tie-up between the present and the distant past archeologists excavating near Mosul, in Iraq, have found exact carved depictions of a breed of dogs, the Saluki, which only recently has become one of the outstanding features of dog shows and canine clubs. The "new" dog of fashion proves, therefore, to be an old breed, for the carvings found in the Near East are 5,000 years old.

Important persons in those far-off times in the Near East wore on strings around their necks small buttons or disks on which were carved the representations of some object. To "sign" their names they simply pressed these seals into the soft clay on which writing was done in those days. The favorite animal seal objects appears to have been the tall, slim and uncommonly graceful animal used in hunting, the Saluki. And this same Saluki he struts through the bazaars. Or as the Arab smokes his water pipe in the coffee house the Saluki lies gracefully at his feet.

Cars Are Damaged

Cars driven by Leida Sheldon of West Tappan and Lyman Schoonmaker of 330 Lucas avenue, were damaged in a collision on Fair street about 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, but no personal injuries were reported. According to the police report, the Sheldon car was pulling out from the curb at the time of the crash.

New Traffic Laws Effective July 1

Albany, N. Y., June 6 (AP).—Eleven new laws designed primarily to increase highway safety become effective July 1 as "vacation" traffic moves toward its summer peak.

Their operation is simultaneous with several other of the 877 statutes enacted by the 1940 legislature, including the disputed $395,000,000 Republican "economy" budget for 1940-41. July 1 opens the state's fiscal year.

Ranging from a required test of driving license applicants for color blindness to stricter regulation of driving practices, the motor laws are among 24 vehicle and traffic act amendments passed this year. Eleven others became operative on enactment and two go into effect September 1, 1940, and January 1, 1941.

More careful driving is the direct objective of three of the "July 1" statutes which of the "July 1" permit suspension of a learner's permit in the same manner as a driving license and suspension of the car's registration.

Provide penalties for failure to comply with traffic control signals, speed or parking regulations established by the state traffic commission.

Require drivers, upon approaching a hill where view is obstructed, to slow down and sound a warning signal.

Others include those to permit employers to provide proof of financial responsibility required of employees because of a conviction; allow issuance of permanent number plates for motor vehicles registered without fee, and require a report to the state on any accident involving a fire or police vehicle which results in personal injuries or death.

A Top-Notch Sauce

Dinner for 5

Salad Royal Toasted Crackers

Hamburg Steak

Buttered Carrots and Turnips

Browned Potatoes

Bread Currant Jelly

Chili Sauce

Vanilla Ice Cream

Chocolate Mint Sauce

Coffee

Salad Royal

2 avocados

1 cup cubed oranges

1 cup cubed grapefruit

1 tablespoon lemon juice

1/4 cup French dressing

1 cup cress

Cut avocados in halves, remove seeds and rinds and cut into thin strips. Mix in a little of the dressing and chili. Chill the mixed oranges and grapefruit. Drain avocado strips and lay on the other fruits placed on cress in a salad bowl. Add lemon juice to dressing.

Hamburg Steak

1 pound chopped beef

1/4 pound chopped veal

2 tablespoons minced onions

2 tablespoons minced parsley

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon paprika

1/4 teaspoon celery seed

1 egg or 2 yolks

2 tablespoons butter, melted

Mix ingredients until blended. Pat down into a well greased pie pan. Broil five minutes, carefully turn out, uncooked side up, onto another pie pan of the same size. Broil until well browned—about five minutes. Transfer to a heated platter and garnish with parsley.

Chocolate Mince Sauce

3 squares chocolate

2/3 cup granulated sugar

1/2 cup water

2/3 cup butter

2 tablespoons vanilla

1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract

Mix chocolate, sugar, salt and water. Cook slowly and stir constantly until creamy and slightly thick. Beat a minute and add the other ingredients. Reheat.

'Don't Give-Up-the-Ship'

Home Is Almost Given Up

BURLINGTON, N. J.—The Burlington County Historical society is attempting to interest the navy department and patriotic organizations in saving the birthplace of Capt. James Lawrence.

The little brick house where the naval hero played as a boy apparently is doomed to be wrecked unless interested groups interfere.

Captain Lawrence became one of America's greatest heroes because of his dying plea, "Don't give up the ship," after H. M. S. Shannon defeated his craft, the Chesapeake, in June, 1813.

America's first real hotel was the City Hotel, opened in 1794 in New York city. It had 73 rooms.

Horn Throws Light On Indian Culture

New Facts About Ancient Hopewellians Found.

WASHINGTON.—New light on the art techniques of the mysterious Hopewell people, the Mound Builders of the Middle West, comes from the accidental discovery near Kansas City of an almost intact specimen of the instrument with which they made their intricate geometric and other designs on pottery.

It is a deer horn, with notches cut in its elliptical bottom, so that it constitutes a roulette. By "rolling" this over the unbaked clay vessel the Mound Builder artist was able to produce easily designs which would have been very difficult to make with a stamp.

The find was made by H. M. Trowbridge of Kansas City and sent to the Smithsonian institution, where it was welcomed by anthropologists as the solution of a problem over which there has been much controversy.

Dr. Waldo R. Wedel of the Smithsonian staff, using the instrument in the laboratory, was able to duplicate almost perfectly the style of decoration found on pottery fragments recovered from the Kansas City area. This is on the periphery of the Mound Builder territory. Very similar markings, however, are found on artifacts recovered from sites of the highest development of these people.

The Hopewell people represented in central North America the highest development of aboriginal civilization, comparable to that of the Maya in Yucatan and the Aztecs around Mexico City, although probably not so far advanced. Unlike the others, however, all traces of them are prehistoric. The Mayas, the Aztecs, and the pueblo builders of the Southwest were flourishing when the white man came, and their descendants in the direct line are still living.

But nobody knows what became of the Hopewellians. There are not even any Indian legends about them. It is highly unlikely that they disappeared without a trace. They must be represented in the ancestry of some living tribes. All efforts to connect their culture with that of any extant people, however, have ended in failure.

Brazos Dam Will Flood

Historic Texas Region

MINERAL, WELLS, TEXAS.—A rugged section of Texas, rich in history, will be inundated this year when engineers begin filling up the lake behind Possum Kingdom dam, on the twisting Brazos river near here.

Eight hundred men are building the giant dam and their work is to be completed next spring, although 12 other dams are planned to harness the Brazos, largest and most destructive river in the state. The lake behind the dam will cover 28,800 acres in Palo Pinto, Stephens and Young counties. Pickwick, a pioneer village five miles northwest of the dam, will be 25 feet under water.

Pickwick was a trading post half a century ago for Sul Ross, the ranchman-Texas ranger captain who is almost a legendary figure of Indian-fighting days. The river valley to be inundated is so inaccessible in most places that Indians and Southwest "bad men" were among its most frequent inhabitants.

Ohio Mayor as Archer

New Rival of Robin Hood

VERMILION, OHIO.—When Leonard Osberg, mayor of Vermilion, aims at something he invariably hits his mark—because he is a crack archer.

He wings five arrows into a space no larger than a 25-cent piece at a distance of 40 feet. Robin Hood himself couldn't have topped that. There just isn't room for more than five arrows there.

"It is generally supposed," he said in discussing hunting, "that an animal shot with an arrow will wander through the woods with the arrow dangling from its side. Nothing could be further from the truth. Antelopes on game killed by archers show the arrow tip, cutting like a knife, kills much more humanely than a bullet."

Insulated Wall Board

The use of insulating board in home construction lowers the surface temperature of the walls in summer and thus has an added effect on comfort, because the cooler the walls the cooler the feet. In winter the phenomenon is reversed. The walls are warmer and consequently help to increase the sensation of warmth.

War Bulletins

Paris, June 6 (AP)—French authorities announced today that the German bombing squadrons which raided France yesterday lost seven planes and probably lost three others.

The reports said the seven Nazi planes were shot down in the region of Normandy. Three others were believed to have been brought down in central France. (Here 24 words were censored).

Mexico City, June 6 (AP)—A nationwide check-up on the whereabouts and activities of all foreigners in Mexico will be instituted shortly by the department of the interior, it was announced today.

The department, which has charge of all immigration matters, said the primary purpose of the inspection would be to learn whether there are any aliens in the country illegally.

At the same time it was reported unofficially that the government, disturbed by increasing reports of Nazi-Communist fifth column activity, had decided to compel all foreigners traveling in Mexico to sign registers and state their business in each city or locality they visit.

When moving from place to place, they would be asked to notify the authorities.

Ottawa, June 6 (AP)—Canada is ready to provide havens for British and refugee children from the European war zones if the British and French governments agree to their exodus.

In London, Undersecretary for Dominions G. H. Shakespeare said yesterday he hoped to say shortly whether children and other civilians withdrawn from war-threatened areas would be sent to Canada and other British possessions on a voluntary basis.

A refugee conference here has drawn up a broad immigration plan to provide homes in the dominion for children from the war zones.

The real refugee problem is in France, the chairman said, and there are difficulties in reaching children there.

Martinsville, N. J., June 6 (AP)—William P. Smith believes everyone should "do his bit" and, in what he terms a "patriotic gesture," has started a school to train machinists and mechanics for the national defense program.

A machinist by trade, Smith gives a "course" in the use of tools and machine operation two nights a week in his shop in this Somerset county hamlet. The class includes 36 boys and men between the ages of 16 and 35. Tuition is free.

The only requirement for entrance is that applicants be "patriotic American citizens," Smith says.

Madrid, June 6 (AP)—Air raid sirens sounded for 15 minutes yesterday at Gibraltar, dispatches reaching here today reported.

Unidentified planes were said to have been sighted in the neighborhood of the British fortress rock.

Melbourne, Australia, June 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies announced today that since Great Britain is "unlikely" to be able to supply planes needed for Australia's training scheme the war cabinet is purchasing 500 planes locally, these to be powered with American engines, and seven seaplanes from the United States.

Nice, France, June 6 (AP)—Tightening precautions in the areas adjoining Italy, French authorities today forbade the circulation of all motorcycles within the maritime Alps department between 10 p. m. and 4 a. m.

With the movement of civilians from Sospel and Cape Martin now complete, the evacuated zone extends almost to Monaco.

London, June 6 (AP)—Britain's chief rabbi, Dr. J. H. Hertz, issued a statement today condemning Jews who claim exemption from military service on conscientious grounds.

Dr. Hertz said: "There is no basis for such a claim in Judaism, which ranks defense of country among the supreme duties."

Athens, June 6 (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's new ambassador-designate to Moscow, left by plane today for the Russian capital, intending to make stops at Sofia and Bucharest.

Dublin, June 6 (AP)—The government of Ireland decided today to strengthen its emergency defense powers by providing summary court martial for civilians.

There will be no appeal in cases of death sentence.

London, June 6 (AP)—A suggestion that Great Britain have meatless and liquorless days was rejected in the House of Commons today by Robert Boothby, parliamentary secretary of the ministry of food.

London, June 6 (AP)—A suggestion that German prisoners and interned "fifth columnists" be sent to St. Helena, British island in the south Atlantic off the African coast where Napoleon died in exile was made to the House of Commons today by Laborite J. C. Wedgwood.

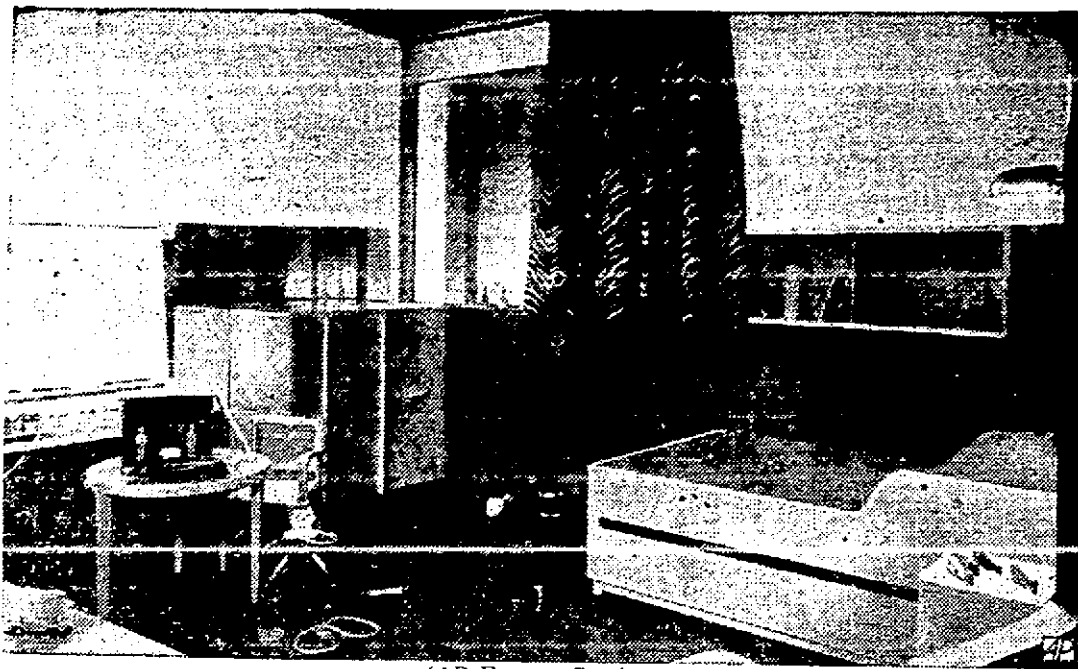

He said prisoners taken in the Ruhr war "thinned in 1918" where they largely could feed themselves.

Copenhagen, June 6 (AP)—Ray Atherton, the United States minister to Denmark, left yesterday for home, it was learned today.

Birmingham, England, June 6 (AP)—A woman who shouted "Heil Hitler! Long may he reign!" was put on six months probation today for violating blackout regulations and causing a crowd to collect.

The woman, Cecilia Daykin, 24, told police: "The German government will be here in a few months, and you scum will be shot. I would betray the country any time if I knew how."

During a fierce tussle with her guards in the courtroom, the woman cried: "I love Germans and will help them. When they come I will be the first to greet them with open arms."

A RED, WHITE AND BLUE ROOM to please a four-year-old. A grand room, with plenty of space for toys and play. For essentials, too. The pickled oak furniture is built to a child's scale. He can pin pictures on the cork board or write on the white-board, both built into the wall. The red rubber wainscoting and blue rubber floor are made for hard wear, says William Lescaze, the designer. The lighting fixtures were arranged so that the child can play without breaking the glass. And, the window pane is a new type that lets little heat escape from the room. This room is part of the contemporary American Industrial art show which continues until September 15 at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Colorful Floral Carpet From Vivid Annual Phlox

Clear, vivid colors and easy culture make the modern annual phlox popular with all amateur gardeners. This brilliant flower, which comes in all colors of the rainbow except orange and the deep yellows, can be used for many purposes. It is excellent for bedding and will flash forth with a dazzling sheet of color. Varieties of the dwarf type make fine plants for edging, and all of them can be used for making bouquets.

The blues, reds and purples are particularly vivid and there is a magnificent array of pink and rose shades with contrasting eyes and edgings in some of the varieties. Their foliage is subordinate to the whole plant seeming to blaze with tiny blossoms supported by firm stems.

It is one of the easiest annuals to grow, and comes into bloom very quickly. Almost any type of soil will do, but the richer it is the more vigorous the bloom and the longer the season. Sow in the open ground as soon as the soil is warm and thin to 6 inches apart. It is better to sow and thin than to transplant, as it does not stand transplanting as well as some of the other annuals, although it can be handled in this manner if the root system is not disturbed. In this case it is best to water in thoroughly and shade for a day or two.

Phlox is often started indoors for an early display and carefully transplanted. Florists put them up in small paper containers for sale, but it is much cheaper to grow them in a seed box at home. There is little difference, but size, between the grandiflora and the dwarf types, the first growing about 12 inches and the smaller ones 8 inches in height. The smaller types are best for bedding and masses of color, and are somewhat more free-flowering. Because the phlox make such good cutting material, they are often planted in rows in the vegetable garden, making handsome display there, and furnishing an abundance for bouquets. The grandiflora types make the best cutting stock.

House of Tomorrow May Be 'All Glass'

Architects and Contractors
Ponder New Idea.

MIAMI, FLA. — Will the small American home soon become an "all-glass" house? That was the question pondered by more than 600 architects, engineers, builders and contractors who met for the first time a demonstration revealing how structural steel, large window areas, and extensive use of plate glass mirrors increase interior light and comfort and give illusions of spaciousness and luxury in the low-cost home.

These homes, labeled by architects, builders, and contractors as "new design for living," signaled the start of a 1940 trend in home design which architects believe will reflect the country over as rebuilding progresses. They contain two and a quarter times as much glass as the average home their $5,500 price range.

The large window and door openings, architects say, in combination with a use of plate glass mirrors which reflect outdoor vistas, serve to effect the long-time goal of bringing the outdoors indoors.

Among the many modern features at lead these building experts to believe that the "all-glass" house is soon to be here are sliding glass doors which permit opening up living rooms to make them one with outdoor porches, wide awning type windows, plate glass mirrors over places and on bedroom doors, decorative uses of peck-tinted glass mirrors. Directionally tinted fluted glass is used in double-paneled windows, and in thickness for sliding glass doors. Structural glass, lead vitrolite, lines bathroom.

Indian Population Gains Slowly but Steadily

WASHINGTON.—The "Vanishing American" isn't vanishing, the office Indian affairs declares.

The agency, part of the interior department, said that the Indian population is growing steadily both the country as a whole and on individual reservations.

"The Indian race is no longer vanishing," the bureau said. "It is neither dying out nor is it rapidly merging into the white society. Indians as Indians will apparently continue as a part of American life for many years."

On January 1, 1938, the office of Indian affairs supervised the lives, work and living conditions of 342,771 Indians. A year later, the number of Indians under the bureau's jurisdiction had mounted to 351,878, an increase due largely to the enrollment of 3,000 Arizona Navajos, 26 Chippewas in Michigan and other 1,157 in Wisconsin.

The Indian population has increased approximately 1.2 per cent annually for the last 10 years. The estimated United States population increase in the same time was 0.7 per cent.

Big Business' Scheme

Too Much for Schoolboy

BIRMINGHAM, ENG.—A 16-year-old schoolboy had a "big business" name. But he had no capital. So he stole $200 worth of lorry car tires, rented a shed and proceeded to sell his ill-gotten gains, claiming to customers that they were part of the stock of a firm which had gone out of business. He had a system of cash and carry. Customers collected the tires and left the money with a nearby coffee-house keeper. With the money he paid in arrears on office furniture, a typewriter, business notepaper and cash with which to get his scheme off started. "I was ambitious and wanted to be on," he told the court. But his ambition has had to be shelved for three years.

Heat, Not Cold, Wiped Out Dinosaurs, Says Expert

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Extreme heat wiped out the dinosaurs that roamed the earth 25,000,000 years ago, says Dr. Raymond B. Miles of the University of California at Los Angeles. This contradicts a widely held belief that the dinosaurs succumbed to glacial cold based on a study of existing records.

Dime-Quarter Savings

Buy Ten City Lots

LORAIN, OHIO.—Six years ago W. Rahl, a contractor, got the idea that saving odd dimes and quarters by tossing loose pocket change left each night into a box would be a good method of saving.

"It certainly was," said Rahl, who since 1933 has purchased 10 city lots with money saved this way. "When the money's saved that way you don't miss it."

Rahl's most recent lot purchase—the tenth—occurred when he walked into the office of E. C. Weidling, real-estate dealer, with two cardboard ice cream buckets containing 2,250 ones and 400 quarters—totaling $325.

London, June 6.—Five people, including one civilian, were killed last night when a Royal Air Force bomber struck a terrace cab on the north coast and crashed into a row of houses near Northumbria. The air ministry announced that one house was demolished.

Windsor Relinquishes His Post With Army

LONDON, June 6.—(AP)—Informal reports today that the Duke of Windsor had relinquished his post as liaison officer with the British and French armies.

No explanation of the change in the former King Edward's assignment was available immediately.

Previously it had been reported that Brigadier Edward Spears had taken over most of the duties performed by the Duke. The Duke's recent return to his residence on the Riviera.

Spears attended a recent meeting of the supreme war council.

The Duke and Duchess have gone to their residence at Cap d'Antibes "indefinitely," the informant said.

Labor Organizing Meting Slated

An extensive organizational campaign is planned by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen, Helpers, Warehousemen and Warehousemen's Helpers of America, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

A special organization meeting will be held in the purpose of organizing all teamsters and chauffeurs in this section. The meeting will be held at the Italian American Club hall, 300 Broadway, corner Broadway and Van Buren street, Sunday June 9, at 7 p. m.

The meetings open to all workers organized or unorganized, who come under the jurisdiction of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters and Chauffeurs, affiliated with the A. F. of L., namely, milk, bakery, laundry, grocery drivers and helpers.

Prominent speakers from the American Federation of Labor and affiliated trades will address this meeting, which is being sponsored by the Ulster County Branch of the A. F. of L.

All workers who are engaged in the trucking and over the road industry are urged to attend.

years to apply for service. Some difficulty in recruiting additional agents was foreseen, if FBI statistics show that only one applicant in a thousand fills all requirements.

The FBI, informers quarters said, already has numerous investigations under way into charges of alien activity in widely scattered sections of the country. The inquiries even extend to certain Indian reservations where foreign-born and foreign-born Americans groups were reported seeking to create trouble.

Congress pressed ahead on legislation intended to hobble fifth columnists.

The House promptly passed yesterday and sent to the Senate a bill providing for swift deportation of aliens who engage in espionage or sabotage, or who are convicted of felonies.

The Senate military committee studied proposals for creation of a "home defense force" of 1 million men and a "national industrial defense corps," the latter "guard against sabotage in key industries."

The Senate appropriations committee recommended State passage of a House-approved amendment to the relief bill barring aliens, Communists or Nazi bund members from WPA jobs.

In the strictly military field, the army chief of staff, General George C. Marshall, who has been appearing before the House military committee, recommended an increase in the regular army's manpower to 400,000.

He advanced it as a compromise for the disputed proposal to empower Mr. Roosevelt to call out the National Guard in emergency. Pending legislation permits an army increase only 50,000 men to bring its strength to 280,000.

The House appropriations committee meanwhile hurried along Mr. Roosevelt's second extraordinary defense request for $1,277,000,000, up only a day and a half for committee hearings.

Yesterday also saw foreign affairs committees in both houses recommending a specific "keep out" statement of the Monroe Doctrine, avowedly for Germany's benefit.

The resolution would put the United States on record as opposing the transfer of American hemisphere lands from one non-American nation to another. The Senate committee in its report said such a step was "urgent at the present time by reason of the ownership of The Netherlands of certain islands in the Gulf of Mexico and the conquest of The Netherlands by Germany."

American nations would consult in the event of an attempted transfer, according to the plan, but not at the expense of prompt preventative action.

Watzka Accident Inquest Is Held

Few facts surrounding the accident which resulted in the death of Mrs. Nellie Watzka of East Kingston last April 13 at the junction of East Chester by-pass and Flatbush avenue were revealed at an inquest held this morning before Coroner Jesse McHugh.

Mrs. Watzka, riding on her way to work in a Chevrolet car operated by Ralph Mitchell of East Kingston, died the following day at the hospital from a ruptured spleen and other injuries. She also suffered five fractured ribs. The Chevrolet car in which she was riding and a tractor-trailer of the McCullough Transportation company were in collision at the intersection.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur H. Brown identified numerous photographs which he took on April 13 shortly after the crash showing the truck in the ditch on the left of East Chester street, headed north and the Chevrolet car on the right of East Chester street, on an adjacent lawn headed back toward East Kingston.

Police Officers George Bowers and Lenville Relyea, who investigated the crash, said it took place about 7:30 o'clock at the junction. They described the position of the cars as had Officer Brown. Officer Relyea said it had snowed the prior night and the streets were slushy and icy. He said he had observed snow and ice on Flatbush avenue in patches but he had not seen ice or snow on East Chester street. That street was wet. At the hour of the accident it was clear. He said the rear of the truck was about 20 feet beyond the intersection to the north and the truck, traveling north prior to the accident, was still headed north on the left of the road.

Clarence Reinski of 307 Fern avenue, Lindhurst, N. J., driver of the truck on advice of counsel, declined to make any statement for the record as did Mitchell, driver of the Chevrolet car, who was represented by Flanagan & Kaercher.

Joseph Berardi, East Kingston, seated on the rear seat of the Chevrolet said he was in the middle of his brother, Frank, was on the left of the car with Mrs. Watzka on the right of the seat. Thomas McCullough was with the driver in the front.

Joseph Berardi said they left East Kingston for Kingston about 7:15 o'clock and that it had snowed the night before. The windows of the car were closed except for the right front window near the driver.

When the Chevrolet car was about 20 feet from the intersection he saw the traffic light and it was green at that time he said. He did not see a change. He did not see the truck approaching from the south until it was about five feet away. He then struck the front left wheel of the Chevrolet car as the driver of the Chevrolet attempted to turn his car to the right to avoid an accident. He heard no horn sounded and estimated the speed of the Chevrolet at 15 to 20 miles an hour.

Berardi said he had watched the light and did not see the trailer-truck coming. In his opinion the front wheel and rear left of the Chevrolet was struck by the front of the tractor-trailer and when the Chevrolet stopped it was headed back toward East Kingston on an adjacent lawn. He said the road was clear of traffic and there was no obstruction ahead save for a few trees near the left side of the road as a car approached the intersection. He said he was not sure but he believed a car had passed through the intersection about 200 feet ahead of the car in which he was riding and proceeded on toward Kingston.

Frank Berardi said he was on his way to Kingston to help fix up a house here to which his family were to move the next day. He saw the light was green when the Chevrolet was about 75 or 100 feet away.

He saw no car ahead of their car and said he never did see the truck until it struck the car. He was seated on the left rear on the side the truck was approaching from. There was snow on the ground but it was thawing. He continued to look ahead all of the time. He said he saw the light was green then the truck struck them and next he knew he was in the hospital. He could not say whether the car was equipped with chains.

Thomas McCullough, also of East Kingston, said he was in front with the driver. The road was slushy. He saw the light at the intersection was green when the truck was observed first as the Chevrolet car was entering the intersection. It was 10 to 15 feet away and was coming fast. He saw no other car pass through the intersection ahead of them.

Mitchell pulled his car to the right to avoid a crash and direct his car in a northerly direction in the direction the truck was proceeding. He said he was laid up seven weeks because of his injuries. The car in which he was riding did not skid and he could not say whether Mitchell applied the brake.

Asked whether he had observed the truck slow down at the intersection and then start up again, he said he had not. The impact came before the Chevrolet car had reached the middle of the intersection. He said the truck appeared to skid over and the trailer seemed to sideswipe the Chevrolet car on the side. At that time Mitchell had turned his car to the north in an effort to avoid the crash.

Coroner McHugh adjourned the inquest without date after the testimony of the witnesses was concluded.

Assistant District Attorney Frederick Stang conducted the was referred to the parking ground committee. It was brought out that additions to the weekly salary, in the form of tips, had been steadily dwindling although the number of cars using the grounds is as large as ever. In this connection it was reported that a large trailer truck was making a practice of using the parking grounds over the week-ends, taking up room of several cars and making it difficult for other cars to get in and out. It was voted to contact the sheriff's office in regard to the matter and also to write to the concern which owns the trailer truck.

In order to put the association officially on record a motion was passed favoring the present two-way traffic regulations on Wall and Fair streets.

Reports on Bureau

James L. Rowe spoke of work being done by the reorganized Kingston Industrial Bureau and members were as give every possible support and cooperation to the work being done and planned by the bureau. Mr. Rowe said that an office had been set aside at the city hall, with a secretary in charge and that already the bureau had been instrumental in bringing to Kingston two factories, employing about 70 men. The association went on record as favoring the purposes of the bureau.

Chairman Betts welcomed new members present at the meeting and suggested that J. A. Avedis and suggested that J. A. Avedis was entitled to special thanks for the fact that through his efforts eight members had been added to the association, even of the new members.

In view of the fact that the regular date of the meeting comes on the fourth of the month, it was voted to hold the meeting on Thursday, July 7.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work right, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Dean's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Dean's Pills.

Have You a Sandwich System?

From left to right is right for party sandwich-making — you can't go wrong with a system. The ready-to-use ingredients will willingly come out of their tidy glass jars for this three-decker treat that's three times as good as anything you've ever had. The method and recipe for this new Three-Layer Sandwich is on this page.

Make Your Sandwiches by System

Triple your reputation with a three-layer sandwich full of cunning flavors. Chicken, olives, pineapple and almonds combine to produce a smart sandwich "certain parties" will enjoy. To make your sandwiches by system stack your bread on the left, empty glass jars of ingredients into bowls on your right. Spread each slice of bread progressively from left to right according to the recipe given below.

Three Decker Chicken Special (For 30 Large Sandwiches)
6½-ounce jar boneless chicken, chopped
2/3 cup finely chopped ripe olives
2/3 cup finely chopped pimientos
1/2 teaspoon celer salt
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 cup mayonnaise
3 5-ounce jars pineapple cream cheese
1/2 cup chopped salt almonds

30 slices whole wheat bread ¾ inch thick
60 slices white bread ¾ inch thick
Butter

Combine chicken, olives, pimientos, seasonings, a mayonnaise. Trim bread and butter on one side. Spread chicken filling on half of the white bread. Spread pineapple cream cheese on whole wheat bread and sprinkle with almonds. Place on top of chicken filling and top with remaining slices of white bread. Wrap in waxed paper, cover with damp cloth and store in air-tight container. When ready to serve cut in thin slices. Makes 30 whole sandwiches or 120 small (party) sandwiches.

ZIGZAG EATING AGAIN IS CENSURED BY EMILY POST AS AN AFFECTION

Transferring Fork to Right Hand for Each Mouthful is Absurd Procedure, Says Social Arbiter

One of the constantly repeated "whys" asked me by foreigners visiting our country as well as by the readers of this column in foreign papers is: "Why do Americans, who are so efficient in all matters of time-saving, follow such time-taking methods in the handling of knife and fork at table?"

That Imp. Charles McCarthy, whose guest I was a short time ago, brought up this same question and since then letters by the score have been duplicates of this one: "I heard you on the air some weeks ago during which mention was made about transferring the fork to the right hand. It was not quite clear to me if this American way is preferred, or not, to the European way of taking food to the mouth with the fork held in the cutting position. I wish you would carry on the discussion in your newspaper column."

I can only repeat that I have written many times: The ideal way is to be able to combine both methods and use both hands at will. To lay down the fork between every mouthful, merely to take it in the right hand to lift food to the mouth, is an absurd affectation quite aptly called zigzag eating. On the other hand, to hold the fork in the left hand and then pile a lot of food high against the tines is a far from pleasant sight.

Mother in Mourning at a Wedding
Dear Mrs. Post: My mother would like to know what she can wear at my wedding which is taking place four months after the death of my father. Mother is wearing mourning clothes now and will be at the time of the wedding. She insists that we go on with our wedding plans, especially as the scene of the wedding will be some distance from our home. My fiancée is accordingly wearing a white bride's dress and a veil and having several attendants. Mother doesn't know what she and other members of my family who are in mourning should wear at the church. There will be no general reception afterward.

Answer: The most suitable thing for your mother to do is, I think, to wear black and add purple to her dress—violet, for example, either real or artificial. If the latter, she might possibly wear a toque of violets. Or at a summer wedding she could wear all white. Other members of the family might add white in the same way that I have suggested the violet for your mother. All white, by the way, is as deep mourning as all black. Black and white is second mourning. Black with purple (when worn by a member of the immediate family at a wedding) is considered deep mourning—but only on this particular occasion.

Nuts at Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: I sometimes include silver baskets of nuts in my dinners. In the past I have left these on throughout dinner, but I have noticed that some people take them off when the table is cleared for dessert. When is the proper time to remove them?

Answer: If they are salted they should be taken off with the salt cellars and pepper pots before dessert; if they are not salted,

A GRACEFUL AFTERNOON DRESS

MARIAN MARTIN

PATTERN 9416

Your passport to an enjoyable summer is a well-designed, printed dress. Marian Martin answers all your needs in Pattern 9416—a frock planned to minimize and enhance the lines of your figure. Much of the slenderizing effect is due to side skirt sections that use high points, leaving your waist and hips slim and holding gathered fullness through the blouse above. A panel goes down the center back skirt. There's a scalloped neckline, and either a sack-tieing sash or a half-tie snapped on at the sides. Makes long sleeves or have short ones, necks with scalloped band. Wouldn't the sleevebands and bow at the neck look lively in contrast?

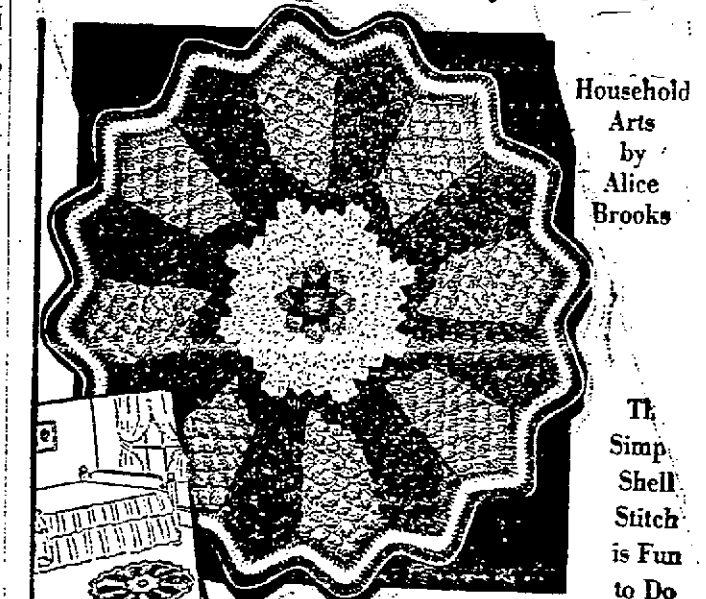

Pattern 9416 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 34 requires 4 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coins for this MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Our MARIAN MARTIN SUMMER PATTERN BOOK will bring you lovely new warm weather styles for playing, traveling, working—available in easy-to-sew patterns. A summer summary of fashion by day and night, including a travelogue wardrobe... an array of "good sports"... cool sheers and cottons... lovely bridal and evening wear. Twinkling twenties, trim thirties, fair forties are all remembered; so are tots and teens. Order your copy today! BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS, PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Rug Crocheted in Easy sections

PATTERN 6601

Choose three colors or two shades and white for this easy shell stitch rug crocheted in sections for easy handling. Use four strands of string, candlewick or rags. Pattern 6601 contains directions for making rug; illustrations of it and stitches; materials required; color schemes. To obtain this pattern send ten cents in coin to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 232 W. 18th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

They may be left on—unless the dinner is a formal one. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Mrs. Post is sorry she can no longer answer personal letters. She is glad, however, to have printed slips on a variety of subjects to offer to her readers. Today's slip is "The Origin of the Great American Rudeless." Be sure to send a three-cent stamped self-addressed envelope with your request to Mrs. Post, in care of the Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 150, Times Square Station, New York, N. Y.

Urges Early Teaching
State College, Pa. (AP)—Studies of deaf children by Dr. Harold Westlake of Pennsylvania State College have caused him to recommend that they be placed in school earlier than is the customary practice. Deaf children, Westlake contends, can learn many words which they cannot hear. "It would be much easier to teach the deafened child speech between the ages of two and four when the child still is babbling than it is to wait until he is about seven or eight years old as we do now," he says.

Still Had the House
St. Joseph, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. L. Gordon went to Kansas City recently and saw some hard-boiled eggs on display. That reminded her that she had forgotten to turn off the fire under eggs she had been boiling when she left her home in St. Joseph. She telephoned the St. Joseph fire department, asking an investigation of the situation in her kitchen. The firemen reported, a short time later, that the eggs had been reduced to ashes; the pan was red hot but there was little other damage.

Italy Tells U. S. Coast Is Mined

southern Sicily had been terminated. At the same time it was reported that a large number of Italians residing in Turkey, had returned to Italy.

Some thought it possible therefore that Italy merely hoped to keep warships with long-range guns from approaching near enough to her ports for effective bombardment.

Confers in Italy

In another sector of Italian war preparations, the German minister of agriculture, Walter Darre, who has charge of the Reich's wartime food supply, came to confer with Italian authorities who seek to insure adequate supplies for Italy.

Darre intended to visit the principal agricultural region where harvest is expected to be over within three weeks.

It is rumored that Ettore Muri, secretary of the Fascist party, probably will command the corps of volunteer parachutists being formed along the lines of the German corps.

The government declared a 12-mile zone around the coast of Italy and off the shores of her possessions, including Albania, dangerous to navigation and required advance authorization for approach of any ship.

Some observers believed Italy had mined at least part of her sea frontier, although the announcement did not specify what dangers foreign ships would face in the zone if they approached without approval.

The power of Italy's submarines, surface craft and air fleet backed up the warning.

Ships now en route to Italian ports were warned to give port authorities immediate notice of the day and hour in which they would enter the danger zone, indicating their approximate positions.

Two American boats which arrived at Genoa yesterday must continue their schedule under the danger zone surveillance. They are the passenger and freighter ship Excelsior, booked to capacity by Americans leaving Europe, and the freighter Exmouth.

Thousands of Fascist soldiers departed today to join 2,000,000 comrades assembled in Italy and along the roads of her empire, expecting a signal from Premier Mussolini which would launch a campaign for the nation's territorial aspirations.

New Blackout Orders

New blackout preparations, together with prohibition of the use of fire sirens and factory whistles except for bombing alarms, were ordered.

Italians expected to learn any morning that their armies already had marched across one or more frontiers.

Newspaper dispatches from Athens declared that Greece, sandwiched between Italy and Turkey, was nervous over a threat in that corner of the Balkans.

A dispatch from Athens to the newspaper Il Messaggero insisted that Turkey, which has mutual assistance pacts with Great Britain and France, had asked permission to land troops on Green islands in the Aegean Sea. The Turks have denied making such a request.

Turkish troops were declared to be concentrated and ready to embark, while allied vessels cruised among the islands.

(At Istanbul, the Turkish government last night ordered partial removal of citizens from the city and spraying of wooden roofs with a fireproof chalk mixture to lessen danger from incendiary bombs.)

A civilian mobilization order needed only Il Duce's word to place the entire nation in a state of war, with women and minors substituting in farm, industrial and public service jobs for men called to arms.

The Vatican hurried preparations to house diplomats from countries which might soon be considered hostile to Italy. They may be bottled up within the tiny papal state for the duration of any Italian warfare.

Student war ferment kept guards on duty protecting the French and British diplomatic establishments.

Forfeits Her Bail

Sarah Guinan of Port Ewen, was arrested Wednesday on a charge of parking her car with the left side to the curb on Broadway. This morning she failed to appear in police court to answer to the charge and her bail of $5 was forfeited.

Henry (Lighthorse Harry) Lee, who as a member of Congress was chosen to make a funeral oration on George Washington, used the now familiar words, "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

City Softball League Results

Scoring seven big runs in the fifth inning last night at Barmans Park the Eichler softball team continued to lead the league by trouncing Winnes, 12 to 8. In the fifth frame Walt Matheus poked out a homer with the bases filled to spark the onslaught against Khederian who hurled for the losers.

Before Matheus made his grand slam homer in the fifth Winnes worked up a 7 to 2 lead on the hurling of Norton and R. Smith. It was the Eichlers' fifth straight league win and strengthened their hold on first place in the City League.

Score by innings: R H E
Eichlers 0 2 0 0 7 0 3—12 15 0
Winnes 0 2 2 3 0 1—8 10 1

Norton, R. Smith and Matheus. Khederian and Sickles.

Homers—Khederian, Coughlin, Matheus. Two base hits—Koslowski (2), Lewis, Williams.

Capitalizing on three big innings, the third, fourth and sixth, Jones Dairy softball team trampled the Independents last night at Block Park by the score of 12 to 3. Ben Toffel and Secreto smashed out round-trippers for the winners.

Bob Balfe hurled for the Dairy-men and gave up four hits while his teammates combed the offerings of Sapp for 16. Balfe helped his own cause with a triple. Larkin, Tom Brock and Herrick laced out triples for Jones.

Score by innings: R H E
Jones Dairy 0 0 3 6 0 3 0—12
Independents 0 0 2 0 1 0—3

Balfe and Larkin; Sapp and Barroff. Homers—Secreto, B. Toffel. Triples—Balfe, Doubles—Larkin 2, Ten Brock and Herrick.

The Central Hudson Gas and Electric softball team won a hard-fought game from Fuller's last night at Loughran Park by the score of 11 to 6. Strong and Mirop formed the battery for the winners while Bock and Myers worked for the Fuller club.

Joe Beirach Wins Mile in 4:49.5 at the Municipal Stadium

Passes Shultis And Pat Bowers In Main Race

Bill Ferguson Tops Own Pole Vault Record With 11-Foot Leap in City Meet

Joe Beirach, Kingston's ace half-miler this spring, made history at the Municipal Stadium last night in the city's first nocturnal track meet by pulling the biggest surprise in copping the mile run. Beirach in the time of 4:49.5, bested Kingston's two other top-notch milers, Jess Shultis and Pat Bowers.

Beirach not only took the long mile jaunt but also his usual 880 yard dash, the first event on the program. In this Joe edged out Waltman, another Kingston High School representative of the past campaign. His time was 2:05.8.

The Maroon and White club of 1940 really went on a grand slam spree last night in other events besides the mile and half mile. Coach G. Warren Kias' newest addition to the pole vault event, Bill Ferguson, thrilled the onlookers to this first nocturnal track meet when he vaulted exactly 11 feet to top the event and better his own high school record of nine feet.

In the 220 yard dash Jack Fallon, on the power of a last ten yards push, took the race ahead of Kingston's Bill Tucker. Fallon's time was 23.8. Last Saturday in Monticello Fallon placed second to Frankie Shields in the DUSO meet.

Mike Weiner, Bill Tucker, Jack Fallon and Gene Wren clipped one and six-tenths of the official DUSO League record in the 440 yard relay when they finished it in 45.7. Weiner finished in the anchor position in the new time for Kingston's new Municipal Stadium.

One of Kingston High School's greatest track stars, and for that matter in all sports, Tommy Maines, fresh from his duties at Syracuse University, didn't find too much opposition in copping the javelin throw. Tommy heaved the stick 139 feet and 3/4 inches. Pat Bowers and Roger Goodsell finished second and third.

Representing the Woodstock N. Y. A. A. Andy Tesky copped two first places in the field events. Tesky won the discus with a throw of 109 feet and 2 1/2 inches and the shot put with a toss of 35 feet and one-half inch.

Showing sensational form all evening Mike Weiner, ace in his own day at the local high school, added a few laurels to his batch by streaking home in the 100 yard dash. His time was 10.3 and his fast clip ripped Francis Short. Weiner and Short finished in the one and two slots while Jim Collins placed third.

Another trio from the Maroon and White school, Mike Weiner, Gene Wren and Jack Fallon, paced the broad jump event. Weiner's winning distance was 24 feet and four inches. Wren and Fallon, the latter copping a few contests this past season with the Kias-Connick combine, finished second and third.

The summary: 880 yard dash—Won by Beirach; second Waltman. Time was 2:05.8.

440 yard relay—Won by Fallon, Weiner, Wren and Tucker. Official record of 45.7.

Javelin throw—Won by Maines; second Bowers; third, Goodsell. Winning distance 139 feet and three and one half inches.

100 yard dash—Won by Weiner; second Short; third Jack Collins. Time 10.3.

220 yard dash—Won by Fallon; second, Tucker; third, Goodsell. Time was 23.8.

Mile—Won by Beirach; second Shultis; third, Bowers. Time, 4:49.5.

Discus—Won by Telesky; second, Ten Broeck; third, Larkin. Winning distance 109 feet and 2 1/2 inches.

Shot Put—Won by Telesky; second, Ten Broeck; third, Murphy. Winning distance of 35 feet and 1/4 inch.

Pole Vault—Won by Ferguson; second, Samuels; third, Telesky and Tsitsera, tied. Winning height of 11 feet.

Broad Jump—Won by Mike Weiner; second, Wren; third, Jack Fallon. Winning distance of 24 feet and four inches.

Kingston Recreations Play New York Red Sox Sunday

The West New York Red Sox, one of the strongest semi-pro outfits in this district, will be the next opponent for Carl Husta's Kingston Recreational baseball team Sunday at the Municipal Stadium.

Going into this battle the Reds have won three straight games. Last week they trimmed the Castleton Ferns in a 10-inning affair by 4 to 3 with Charlie Neff going the route. In all probability, Husta will call upon Bob "Schoolboy" Eush to hurl this week's game.

Although Tommy "Gaw" Maines has returned to Kingston from Syracuse University, his status with the Reds is not known. According to some announcements, Maines has received a few flattering offers to play with other clubs. However, he will probably be ready to step into the outfield on Sunday which will necessitate a change. At the present time Mac Tiano, Vince Smedes and Bill Thomas are on the picket line.

So far this season the Reds have looked impressive in all of their games, a fairly good aggregation of hitters and more than average pitching by Bush and Neff. Bush won his first start on Memorial Day and will be out looking for his second straight triumph on the hill Sunday afternoon.

The Red Sox will be making their first showing in Kingston in five years. In former seasons the Sox have played against the Pan-

Ans. Kingston Centrals and the original Colonials. With either Bush or Neff on the hill for Kingston, Manager Soxiey Ward of the New Yorkers has indicated that Freddie Lanzetta will go to the mound for his club. In past games Lanzetta has hurled good ball against Poughkeepsie and Newburgh.

The rest of the Recreational club will probably be the same for the Red Sox tussle. Manager Husta will use Jack Schatzel, George McLean, Andy Celuch and Chappie Van Derzee in the infield with Mac Tiano, Vince Smedes and Bill Thomas in the outfield. However, if Maines does start for Kingston one of these picket line representatives will have to be on the bench. George Zadany will be on the receiving end of either Neff or Bush.

Maroon Golfers Play Newburgh

Following its easy victory over Monticello High last week the Kingston High School golf squad is looking forward to its initial DUSO League Championship. The golfers of Watts Bailey defeated Monticello by the score of 10 1/2 to 12.

Sparking the Maroon and White club was Pete Carlson who had a low score of 74 on the 18 hole course. Carlson had a brilliant 34 on the incoming nine which was on the incoming nine which was the first par for the nine-hole century.

course, this season. Monticello's Ray Stapleton trailed Carlson by 14.

Another of Kingston's ace golfers, Leo Boice, showed up as expected by defeating Roberts nine up. A newcomer to the Baileyens, Bill Van Aken of the Myron J. Michael School, was five up on his opponent. Thus far in the DUSO League competition Van Aken has taken all of his individual matches. Dick Seaton, replacing Captain Bill Weil, tied Monticello's Everett. Going down by four on the first nine Seaton found himself and won the incoming nine by four up.

Kingston's record for the season to date is three victories and one tie. The Maroon defeated Port Jervis, 12-0, then soundly set back Middletown by the same score. Previous to the Monticello victory Kingston was tied by Liberty, 6-6.

With the team going strong for the last few weeks Kingston is looking forward to Friday's match with Newburgh at the Hill City course.

One-fifth of the area of Utah is said to be underlain with coal. Government estimates place its unmined reserve at one hundred and ninety-six billion tons, enough to supply the entire country for a century.

Senators Are Cheered by Masterson's Pitching

(By The Associated Press)

The Washington Senators, who have had little enough to cheer about this spring, are rightfully grateful over the suddenly sensational pitching of young Walter Masterson.

This little right-hander, who isn't 20 years old until June 15, set the Cleveland Indians on their ears 6-1 yesterday with a brilliant pitching performance that was the day's brightest achievement in the major leagues.

What made the effort more cheering for the Senators, however, was the fact that it came on the heels of a three-hitter Masterson hurled May 30 in a ten-inning game against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Plagued by injuries, Washington hardly has been able to hold a head erect in the American league skirmishing this season, and Masterson's win would seem to be the club's troubles. The Nationals haven't garnered less than 10 wins in any of their last eight games.

They got 10 yesterday, and Masterson pitched for eight innings before letting a run trickle across in the ninth. The verdict was sealed in his favor by a run-flurry in the fourth when Bloodworth homered with the bases loaded.

The pesky St. Louis Browns edged the Boston Red Sox into their third straight defeat, 4-3 in 11 innings, to preserve the one-game margin between the Sox and Indians at the top of the standings.

The Browns pushed across two wins in the ninth to tie the count, and placed their trust in the hands of young Bob Harris, who pitched seven scoreless innings in the ninth and singled the winning run with two out in the 14th.

Schoolboy Rowe pitched and led the Detroit Tigers to a 9-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics in a night game. He scattered seven hits in acquiring his fourth victory without defeat and batted in three of Detroit's runs.

The New York Yankees jumped on Lefty Thornton Lee for 12 hits and stopped the Chicago White Sox 7-5. Monte Pearson weakened in the ninth and gave up three runs, including a pinch homer by Ken Silvestri.

The Cincinnati Reds improved their station in the National league with 7-2 conquest of the New York Giants in another night contest. Gene Thompson allowed hits and knocked in three runs to make sure of his seventh victory.

The Reds got only seven hits, but they went to work on Harry Humbert for five runs in the second.

(By The Associated Press)

Montreal—Maurice (The Angel) Tillet, 276, France, defeated Yvon Robert, 224, Montreal, when Robert was unable to come out for third, and deciding fall.

Will Never Get Gehringer

Detroit (AP)—Charley Gehringer, great Detroit Tiger second baseman, has announced that he will never go to the minors either as a player, coach or manager when his big league days are over. Gehringer and a friend operate an agency for a manufacturing concern and Charley intends to devote all of his time to the enterprise as soon as he calls it quits with the Tigers.

Since 1291, every able bodied Swiss man has been liable for military service from voting age to death.

and two more in the third. All the good relief work of Paul Dean and a couple of other hurlers thereafter was wasted.

In the only other game in the senior circuit the Chicago Cubs edged out the Phillies 3-2 with Dom Dallessandro accounting for all Chicago's runs on a double with the bases loaded. Hugh Mulcahy, in losing, allowed only six hits to 10 given up by Larry French.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Detroit—Billy Conn, 173½, Pittsburgh, light heavyweight champion, outpointed Gus Lesnevich, 173½, Cliffside Park, N. J., (15).

Chicago—Altus Allen, 179½, Chicago, knocked out Johnny Paychek, 188, Des Moines, (10).

It's A Complicated Job, Digging Up Baseball Talent

AP Feature Service

New Orleans—"He's so wild he can hardly hit the backstop, but there's a pitcher who some day will pitch and win a World Series game."

The speaker, at the 1924 St. Louis Cardinal spring training camp, was Branch Rickey. He was talking about a rookie pitcher whose wildness had the hitters jittery about stepping up to the plate, had them grumbling about such a hurler getting a big league trial.

Six years later that same pitcher shut out the Philadelphia Athletics in a World Series contest. His name was Wild Bill Hallahan.

Wild Matthews canny ivory hunter for the Cardinals, tells that story as an illustration of his point that baseball scouting is a complicated occupation.

Takes Real Judgment

"You can't judge 'em," says Matthews, "solely on record or appearances. 'I don't know what Rickey saw unless it was just a big, loose-jointed boy with a free delivery. He must have known that Hallahan's faults were faults that could be corrected. It just goes to show you that the best major league prospects aren't necessarily leading the Class AA leagues—they may be way down in a Class D loop."

Rogers Hornsby, who batted .256 for Denon, Tex., and then set all kinds of records in the majors, is another favorite example used by Matthews. On the other side of the ledger, Wild points to the scores of sensational minor leaguers who turn out to be No. 1 floppers when they move upstairs.

What do scouts look at then, if not at the records? Just this, says Matthews: "The prospect must have the right temperament, intelligence and physical makeup. He must be a clean liver—dissipators don't help a club any."

"On the physical side, he must have good body control, coordination. His hands should be big, he should be well-proportioned. 'Of course you check on whether he can run, throw and hit. And if he's a pitcher he'd better have some semblance of a good fast ball or a curve—or both. He may get along without them in the minors, maybe win 25 games. But you can bet your life he won't do it in the big time."

permitted Allen to fight his way out of trouble. Allen, who at 179½ was outweighed 9½ pounds, took Paychek's best punches, jabbed and punched with both hands and had his opponent so battered that he would have received a unanimous decision regardless of the sudden knockout.

In the tenth round, Allen crashed over a short right cross that dropped his foe for a nine count. A similar punch then knocked Paychek flat on his back. He had to be helped to his corner. Paychek, a Golden Gloves international champion, had 52 fights as a professional, winning 30 by knockouts. Allen has won nine of his 13 pro bouts by knockouts.

Hudson Valley Softball Tourney

Entry deadline for the Hudson Valley Softball Tournament to be held in Kingston the week-end of July 20 is Saturday, July 13, at midnight. Any team which is uniformed has the right to enter as long as the players are from the territory within the boundaries of Columbia, Greene, Ulster, Orange, Sullivan and Dutchess counties.

Please signify your intention of entering this affair by writing or telephoning the Y. M. C. A. in Kingston. Weldon J. McCluskey is the softball commissioner for this area for the Amateur Softball Association of America.

Conn Wins, Will Now Enter Heavies

Detroit, June 6 (AP)—Gus Lesnevich, a plodding pugilist from Cliffside Park, N. J., lost his chance to win the light-heavyweight boxing championship of the world last night but he woke up today with the knowledge that the title will probably be his within a few days.

Billy Conn, the champion, rebuilt the biased hopes of Lesnevich a few minutes after receiving the decision in a 15-round defense of his crown.

Lesnevich was in a shower cooling his tired body when Conn walked in.

"It was a nice fight, Billy," said Gus. "I have no alibi."

"Don't feel bad," answered Conn, "because the championship will be yours in a few days. This fight convinced me I can't take off weight any more and from now on I'm a heavyweight. You can beat the other light-heavies."

"But I don't want the title, that way," remonstrated Lesnevich. "I want to win it in the ring."

"If you want to fight me again become a heavyweight," said Conn, thereby signaling his vacating of the title. He says he hopes to get a shot at heavyweight champion Joe Louis.

The fight itself, seventh championship bout in Detroit's history, was a replica of the first battle in New York last November between the men. Conn, a notoriously slow starter, appeared to disadvantage in the early rounds and then closed in whirlwind style to win the unanimous decision of Referee Sam Hennessy and Judges (Dad) Butler and Harry Hall. Both men weighed 173½.

All-Star Cast in National Open

Cleveland, O., June 6 (AP)—Golf's greatest show—the National Open Championship—sent an all-star cast of par smashers into battle against wind and distance at Canterbury Golf Club today.

The defending champion in this 44th edition of the game's "world series" is slender Byron Nelson of Toledo, O. Lined up against him are some 169 other top flight professionals and amateurs. And up against all of them are the 6,821 yards of Canterbury's tricky terrain and the nerve-cracking, steady Lake Erie breezes which carry the prospect of producing one of the most spectacular, free-for-all fights in open history.

The players known to be consistently long and straight are given on the best chance of licking the winds and Canterbury's par of 36-36-72 over the three-day, 72-hole grind.

"Slamming Sam" Sneed and little Ben Hogan, therefore, are rated the co-favorites at 6-1 to take the crown which Nelson won after last year's double playoff at Philadelphia. Sneed has been exceptionally long and straight off the tee, while "Battering Ben," leading money winner of the winter, was not enough to produce three sub-par rounds in consecutive practice jaunts.

But there are a dozen or more others rated excellent chances of coming home in front. Ralph Guldahl, holder of the open title in 1937 and 1938, made no secret of the confidence he has in himself to become a three-time winner. He and Nelson are bracketed in the second choice wagering with Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas; Craig Wood, recent winner of the Metropolitan Open with a record 254; and Lawson Little, twice winner of the British and United States amateur titles and low qualifier for the nation in the sectional tests.

THE 'LION' ROARS—When England's Prime Minister Chamberlain faced an angry House of Commons to explain Britain's disastrous expedition to Norway, one of his critics was Lloyd George (above), who was England's premier during the last world war. The snow-haired Welshman bitterly attacked the Chamberlain government, asked that the prime minister resign.

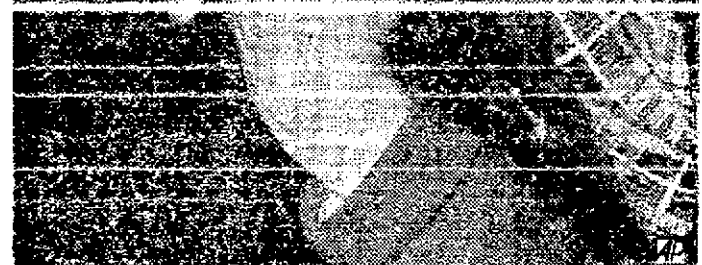

MISSION OF MERCY—Three of the principals in an American Red Cross pageant at Washington were, left to right: Mrs. Patrick Hurley, who portrayed role of Florence Nightingale; Mrs. A. London, wife of the Netherlands minister, who portrayed Hilda the Dane; Mrs. James Houghteling, who impersonated the "Red Cross." The pageant was given at Red Cross convention.

ALWAYS ROOM FOR MORE—The ancient grudge between cats and rats was forgotten in Syracuse, N. Y., when "Little Tig" adopted two motherless rats found in a field, and put her family on a "First Come, First Served" basis.

NEW OFFICERS OF JUNIOR RED CROSS—Junior Red Cross activities in country will be directed by these newly-elected officers, chosen during the recent American Red Cross convention in nation's capital. He said that his tax bill duties would prevent him from attending the state party convention next Tuesday, and he asked Holmes to express to the meeting his hope that it would "unanimously endorse President Roosevelt for renomination."

'Grave Situation'

"The nation is now confronted with grave international and domestic programs," Harrison said. "In times of such great emergency precedents can be broken; and because of his thorough grasp of the international situation, his masterful handling of our foreign affairs from the beginning of the present world crisis, and the accomplishments of his administration, I believe it imperative that the President be re-elected."

Senator Minton (D., Ind.), Democratic whip, said Harrison's action "indicates that all shades of opinion in the Democratic party will be heartily behind the President for a third term."

"It looks like a landslide," commented Senator McKellar (D., Tenn.).

Senator Pepper (D., Fla.) said it meant that "liberals, conservatives and middle-of-the-roads are coming together for the safety of our country." He suggested that the Republicans nominate Mr. Roosevelt for President and that the Democrats pick a Republican for vice presidential candidate.

Oddities Among Echoes

Explained by Scientists

Modern science understands and can explain the oddities among natural echoes that occur in different parts of the world, writes Albert Carr in The Scientific American. Some echoes magnify your voice. Usually such "megaphone" echoes are heard in caves.

At the famous quarried grotto known as the Ear of Dionysius, in Sicily, the crumpling of a piece of cellophane will make you think a machine gun is at work. Why? Well, when echoes are thrown back simultaneously from many surfaces their combined volume is louder than that of the original sound heard from a single direction.

The musical echo is certainly the most charming of all the numerous echo family. On Saddleback mountain, in Maine, the most hideous discords, such as an Indian war whoop, are returned as a delightful, soft, musical note. Such echoes are generally found only where there are symmetrical rows of trees which "cut out" or absorb certain sound frequencies and reflect the others in a harmonic relationship.

Everyone has observed how a prism or spectroscopic grating breaks up sunlight into its component colors. Here and there an echo will do the same thing to sound, producing a "sound spectrum."

In Bighorn canyon, in southern Montana, the rushing roar of the river sometimes echoes from a certain section of the cliffs in a howl like that of a police car siren, beginning on a high note and sweeping down into the bass clef. Years ago Indians in the neighborhood used to shun the spot for fear of evil spirits. Today we know that the various wave lengths in the sound of the river are reflected by different parts of the jagged cliff, reaching the ear separately instead of all at once. If the observer takes another position he can cause the order of the sounds to be reversed, so that the echo begins with the deep tones and rises to the treble. Physicists say of echoes of this type that they "analyze" sound.

1514, Joseph A. and Florence F. Raffa; Parcel 1516, Robert M. and Thelma M. Braden; Parcel 1546, John L. and Marian Sullivan; Parcel 1551, Lorenzo Myers.

Parcels in the Delaware section 11 area for which possession will be asked are: Parcel 1563, Bruce and Ada Decker; Parcel 1564, Rudolph and Catherine Tydrich; Parcel 1567, Pluma V. Cross; Parcel 1569, George Gorton; Parcel 1570, Henry Tillison and Parcel 1581, Wolf and Rose Kramer.

The motion for possession of all of the foregoing parcels will be made at the regular special term here on Friday.

Also to come before the court Friday is a motion by the city of New York for confirmation of all awards and allowances recently reported by the members of Delaware section 8 condemnation commission in its fourth separate report. This is the report of Commissioners Edward Easton, Roll Michelson and Howard Beecher. This report was made by the commissioners on April 26, 1940, and included a total of $119,909 in awards for parcels up the Rondout valley, some in the vicinity of Eureka. The awards varied from a very nominal sum to one award of $17,905.
